Fourth of July fun starts off with a run

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Annual Antioch Independence Day festivities will include some new events this year, along with the popular regular features. The festivities begin on Saturday, July 1, and one of the new events will kick off the weekend.

The 5K Run for Freedom kicks off the celebration at 6:30 a.m. The race is sanctioned by USA Track and Field/Illinois and the starting line is at the Scout House at Williams Park.

At 9:30 a.m., the pre-parade entertainment begins, with the parade kicking off at 10 a.m. Following the parade will be the Children's Festival at 11 a.m. The festival will include the Children's Pet Parade, bike decorating contest, fun fair games, age group games and field games.

Other events slated for Saturday include 25 cent swimming, a visit by Snookie the Clown, pony rides, petting zoo, food and beverages, and an old See RUN page A10

Orchard St. almost done

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Some said it would never be done. Some even believed it couldn't be done. And, everyone wondered when it would be finished. But, to the delight of all, the completion of the Orchard Street extension is just around the corner.

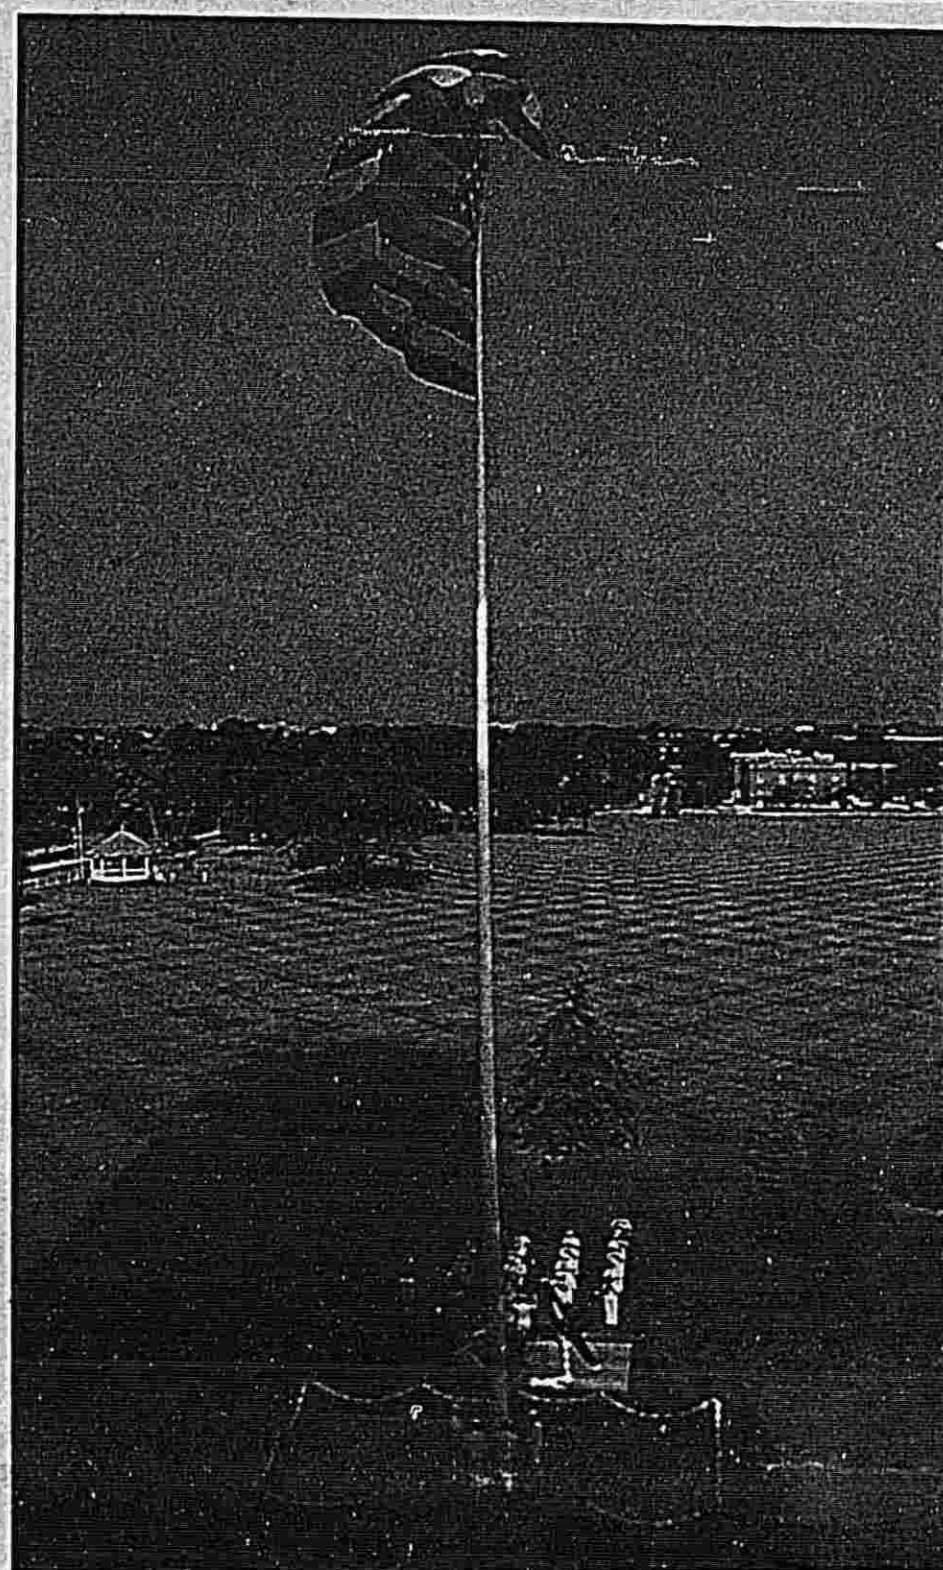

Village officials had hoped the project would be completed for the Independence Day celebration, however, it was not meant to be. Now, Village Administrator Tim Wells is predicting a ribbon cutting ceremony by the second week of July to kick off the opening of the road.

Wells estimates the Orchard Street extension project has been in the works for about six years. "Negotiating for the buildings, the acquisition of properties, and the review program," Wells explained, "that all took time."

The new road will extend the current Orchard Street into Depot Street. This will allow access to the soon-to-be-built Metra train station.

Wells said part of the Orchard project delays were a result of the difficulties of coordinating the project with the Illinois Department of Transportation. "We were trying to coordinate efforts with the state's resurfacing project on Route 83," said Wells.

The Antioch Village Board is expected to finalize plans for the train station at their next board meeting.

Antioch crowns Little Miss Staten, Miss Haas

Last Friday and Saturday nights, Antioch crowned the new Little Miss and Miss Antioch winners. The new Little Miss Antioch is Jennifer Staten and Miss Antioch is Lauren Haas.

"I was very, very surprised," said Haas. "I didn't expect it at all."

Haas, one of the youngest members of the 1996 Antioch Community High School senior class this year is 16. She works as a lifeguard in Lindenhurst.

While Haas would like to major in pre-law when she begins college next year, she has not yet picked out a college. "I am real open about that," explains Haas. "I want to stay in the state school system, though."

Lisa Dusak won Miss Congeniality at the pageant. A Carmel High School senior, she is planning to major in elementary education. She works at the Hastings Lake YMCA as a camp counselor.

The Little Miss Antioch winner is Jennifer Staten, a second-grade student at Grass Lake School. Staten is 7 years old.

"We both thought she would do well. She was a runner up last year," said Staten's dad Dan. "Of course, I am a typical biased parent," he joked.

Bingo to help Rescue Squad

The Antioch VFW Post will host bingo on July 4. The funds generated will benefit the Antioch Rescue Squad.

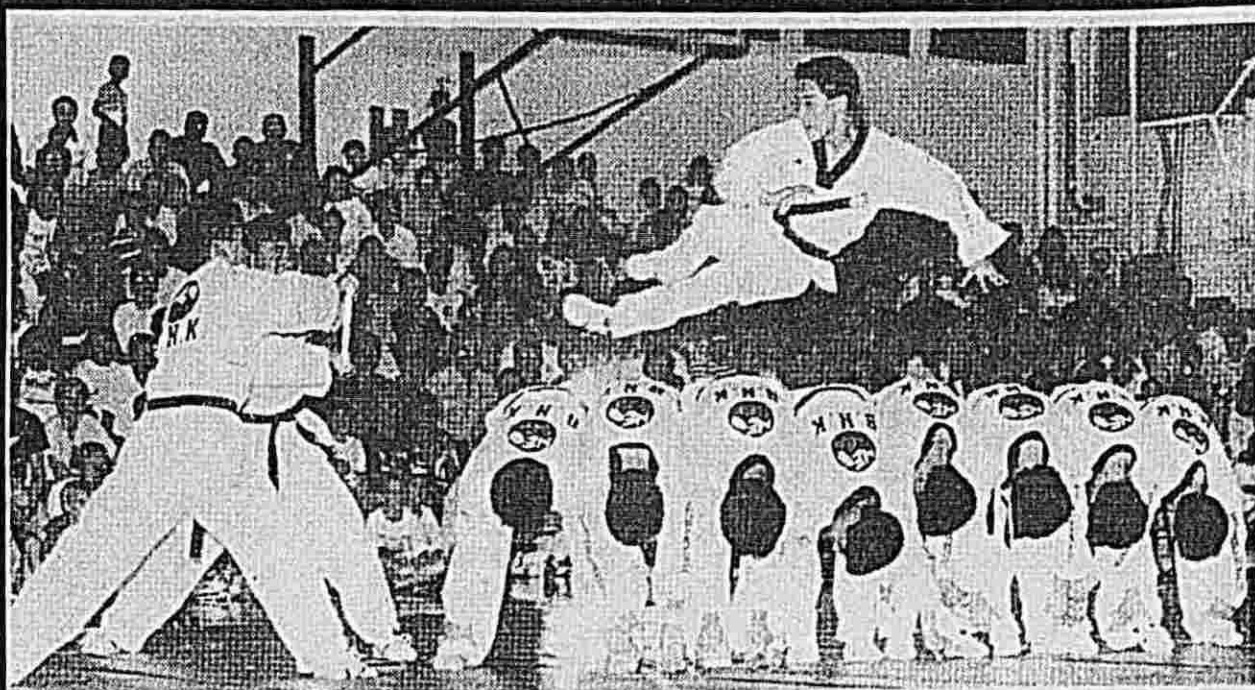

"I think this is the first time we have done something like this," said Dorothee Himber, a member of the VFW Auxiliary.

The Antioch VFW Post, on North Avenue in Antioch, will open its doors at 4:30 p.m. The games will begin at 6:45 p.m.

Since the Antioch Independence Day celebration takes place on Saturday and Sunday, Himber hopes to have a good turn out on the 4th. "We hope more will come out," she said.

In addition to bingo, a raffle will be held. The raffle benefits the post. The public is invited to attend this worthy cause.

See Me For All Your Advertising Needs.

Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage the very moment you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from advertising. Yours or somebody else's.

Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a company that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.

Advertising is news-about products and services. Most consumers look for this kind of news in the pages of their community newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the community newspaper because it provides immediate payoff at the cash register.

Now is a great time to call me. I have a genuine concern for my clients. I will never try to sell you more than you need. I work hard at finding what will work for you.

I can bring your business to the attention of over 200,000 potential customers in 13 papers across Lake County, or reach just one community! Call me today, your success is my business!

Route 83 road work will slow drive times

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Motorists from Antioch and Lake Villa will have to be a little patient as road work will continue into next week.

The road patching work started last week is scheduled to take a total of 15 days, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT).

There will be lane closures during daytime hours. Commuters are suggested to get up a little earlier so they can make their work destinations.

The patching work will remove all those nasty holes and cracks in the pavement, making for a smoother ride. The work will be mainly between Petite Lake Road and Wall Avenue.

Once patching work is complete, then the road will revert back to normal traffic patterns.

Work is also being completed on a turn lane at the intersection of Monaville Road as well.

Last week the closure of Rollins Road to the west also slowed traffic on Rte 83. Delays as long as one hour were reported.

On a positive note, a left turn lane was completed last week from Rte. 83 to Lake Street in Grayslake.

Also, work on Rte. 59 from Grand Avenue into Fox Lake will be ongoing until October with a one lane road for repair sections during work hours as well.

Breakfast confusion result of tremendous response

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

"Chaos," was the word Antioch Fire Department Chief Rich Frankson used to describe the tremendous response to the department's first annual pancake breakfast. More than 1,000 meals were served at this maiden event.

"We did more business than we ever thought we would," said Frankson. "We were anticipating a turn-out of maybe 500. Instead, we served 1,000 meals in only four hours."

Frankson said volunteers were covered in pancake batter by the morning's end. In addition, the pancake making machine they used made 400 pancakes an hour and still couldn't keep up with the demand.

With the huge turnout and a surprise fire call in the middle of the event, volunteers scrambled to keep up. "We want everyone to know we are already in the process of revamping the event in order to have a smoother operation next year."

The Antioch Firefighters Association decided to switch from the annual firemen's dance to the more family oriented event, the pancake breakfast. Frankson said many families and older residents told him how wonderful they thought the idea was.

Frankson thanked participants for their patience and said next year's event will be even better. "Please remember, this was the first time we have ever done this."

Grass Lake School gets high marks from parents

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The results are in from a survey sent to parents of Grass Lake School students. In all, the school received some pretty good marks.

The survey is a result of efforts by the school to gather information about the strengths and weakness of Grass Lake School. A Goals and Objectives research committee was formed by volunteers from the school board, staff and community. The committee decided the best way to gather information was through a survey.

Parents were asked to rate various aspects of the school. Some of the highest marks the school received were in the area of leadership. Respondents reported strong positive feelings about Superintendent/Principal Jim Beveridge.

One of the strongest negative responses from parents were in regard to the building size. When asked if they felt the school building is satisfactory in size and facilities, only 14 respondents agreed with this statement. Twenty respondents said they disagreed and six said they strongly disagreed.

When asked about curriculum, parents gave overall high marks. Although, over half the respondents admitted concerns regarding the academic achievement of the school.

There was also some dissatisfaction with student assessments. Parents indicated a need for more adequate checks for student mastery. Interestingly enough, parents indicated satisfaction with report card accuracy.

Parents Day Out has openings

The Parents Day Out program still has openings for its summer session. The program provides an opportunity for parents and children to take some time off from each other two days a week. At a cost of only $10 a session, children can socialize with other children, attend field trips, and complete art projects. The sessions are available on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The program will be closed the week of July 24 to 28 as a result of Vacation Bible School. If possible please make reservations in advance for you child, although walk-ins will be accepted. Call 395-1259 for more information.

Schools to get bigger fees

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

As a result of a change approved by the Antioch Village Board, local schools will see higher impact fees. The new fee schedule was the result of efforts by local school and village officials.

"We sat down and tried to calculate what our actual costs are for additional students," said District 34 Superintendent Daniel Burke. "They came up with a pretty sophisticated document."

The new impact fees, which are paid by developers are $3,000 for a three-bedroom house, $3,500 for a four-bedroom house, $780 per two-bedroom apartment, $3,500 for a three-bedroom apartment, $1,000 for a two-bedroom condo/duplex/townhouse and $1,500 for a three-bedroom condo/duplex/townhouse.

In addition to developer fees for two-bedroom apartments, all developers will have to pay an additional $2,500 into an escrow interest bearing account. This amount will be returned to the developer if the student yield on the unit is one or less.

On average, Antioch elementary schools will see 77 percent the fees, while Antioch Community High School will get 23 percent. The reason for the difference is based on probability. Since elementary schools include students in kindergarten through eighth grade, it is more likely a new resident will have a student in the elementary school system.

The earlier impact fees were established in December of 1989. And, while the schools will receive increases, they do not represent the actual costs each new student incurs entering the school system.

"It doesn't fully convert the costs," said Burke. "But, it is certainly a legitimate increase. If we tried to charge actual costs, no village board would ever approve it."

Possession

Michael G. Yant, 32, of Ingleside, was arrested and charged with possession of marijuana on June 24. Yant had been stopped after officers recognized him matching the description on a warrant for aggravated battery. Yant had no drivers license and was found to be in possession of a green leafy substance. He was also charged with driving while license suspended, uninsured vehicle. He was released on bond.

LAKE VILLA

Don't mess with the cops

Dennis Hawks, Antioch, on June 18, was arrested for resisting arrest, obstructing justice, and speeding. He was stopped on Rte. 83 for driving 67 mph in a 45 mph zone. As the officer was to arrest him he struggled to get away. Another unit was called and Hawks was warned he was going to be sprayed with chemical spray if he didn't quit resisting. He surrendered to officers and gave a false name.

Arrested for battery

Leah Pertle, 18, 39 Grand, Apt. B, Lake Villa, on June 19, was arrested for battery. She reportedly punched and kicked the complainant repeatedly.

Alcohol is top killer on Fourth

More people will die in alcohol-related boating accidents this Fourth of July than on any other day of the year, according to 500,000-member BOAT/U.S. (Boat Owners Assn. of The United States), the nation's largest organization of recreational boaters.

There could be as many as 60 deaths on the nation's waterways on the Fourth, and alcohol will be a factor in almost half. "Drinking and boating is a serious safety issue any day of the week, but it's far worse on July Fourth because it's a traditionally festive occasion," said BOAT/U.S. President Richard Schwartz.

Schwartz urged boat owners to appoint a qualified "designated skipper" who will take a holiday from consuming alcohol and keep a watchful eye on their passengers. "A guest on your boat who has had too much to drink could easily fall overboard and drown," he said.

Boating while intoxicated (BWI) is not only dangerous, it's illegal. The U.S. Coast Guard enforces federal law, which sets a blood alcohol concentration (BAC) standard of .10 percent as legal intoxication. A boat operator with a BAC above .10 is 10 times more likely to be killed in a boating accident than a boater with zero BAC. Violators face a civil penalty of up to $1,000 or a criminal fine up to $5,000 and a year in jail.

Forty-six states also have BWI laws which are enforced by the marine police as well as state and local police departments. In three of these states—Alaska, Massachusetts and New Jersey—a boater convicted of BWI can also lose his or her driver's license.

Vietnam Memorial may visit Antioch

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

At the last Antioch Township meeting, Carole Jonites, president of United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch suggested the township inquire about a traveling Vietnam Veterans Memorial. The memorial, measuring half the size of the "Wall" in Washington, D.C., is a collaborative effort of the Lake County Vetz of Waukegan and American Laser Mark.

The company has etched all 58,196 names on aluminum panels, which includes all of the veterans killed or missing in action in Vietnam. Those in Streamwood have already seen the traveling memorial and Jonites suggested officials get in contact with the Lake County Vetz organization to see if the memorial can be brought to Antioch.

Board members had agreed to investigate the proposal, with the possibility of displaying the memorial during Labor Day festivities.

"I thought it would be a wonderful idea for Antioch," said Jonites. "Particularly since we have just dedicated the new tank memorial."

The traveling memorial, when set up encompasses 240 feet from tip to tip. "There are 70 double aluminum panels in all," said Stan Adler, president of Lake County Vetz.

Adler said they chose American Laser because they were willing to upgrade their equipment to do the job. "When we originally went out looking for bids for the wall, American Laser was one of the companies," explained Adler. "Since they were in Lake County, we thought we would keep our business in Lake County."

Happy Fourth of July to all, see you at the festivities

It's the Fourth of July weekend so go out and do something Fourth of July-ish. Invite yourself over to the neighbors for a barbecue, or obtain some legal fireworks and watch your dog foam at the mouth while you shoot them off. Perhaps a day on the boat is more to your liking, even though us native Chain-O-Laker's usually reserve the waterways this weekend for the tourist.

As time goes on we seem to lose track of the true meaning of our holidays. Most of us look at them as a day off with pay and a reason to throw a party—now that's the American way. So whatever you decide to do, just sit back a minute and ponder the fact that this is the day our founding forefathers signed that big Declaration of Independence and gave us our freedom from Queenie. So put on something, red white and blue, fly your stars and stripes, and have a great celebration.

Festivities galore

There is an abundance of activities going on this weekend in Antioch, so load up the family van and head uptown.

On Saturday, July 1 there will be a 5K run. Then the Antioch Choir will be entertaining us with their patriotic tunes, followed by a parade down Main Street at 10 a.m. Starting at 11 a.m. and going until 3 p.m. there will be a Children's Festival at Williams Park. There will be baby races, tug of war, egg toss, watermelon eating contest, a petting zoo, pony rides and much more fun and games for all ages.

Then on Sunday, July 2 Williams Park will once again be buzzing with activity. There will be the Sports Tournament, the Annual Apple Pie Bake Off, water fights, tug of war, an old-fashioned quilting bee and live entertainment. The famous Williams Park fireworks will begin at dusk. So come on out for the day, or for an hour, and greet your fellow citizens.

If you need any more information about any of the above activities, contact the Chamber of Commerce at 395-2233. Also for any of you who might be wondering, Fox Lake will be having their fireworks over Mineola Bay on Sunday, July 2, also to begin at dusk.

One egg, two babies

Ever since they were born, Sandy Duehr and Sherry Hoban's mom dressed the identical twins alike. Therefore, the two have always resented their mother but shared the same taste in clothes. This point was taken to an extreme recently as the twins celebrated their birthday.

With their birthday approaching, each twin went shopping on separate occasions to find an exclusive gift for the other. Both cruised the main stores at the local mall and found nothing unique, so they found themselves wandering down the less traveled corridors and searching the smaller, unknown shops. Each was successful in their mission and returned home with a satisfactory purchase in hand.

The big day came and a dinner celebration was planned. Before heading off to dinner, the two sisters met to exchange their totally unique gifts. Sandy began first and removed the festive wrappings of her present, opened the box, parted the tissue paper and stared in disbelief, "Sherry, I think you had better open your present now." Sherry did as requested and blinked in amazement as she, too, separated the tissue paper of her newly opened present and revealed the exact same shirt her twin sister held in her hand.

One would have to wonder what was going through the mind of that confused store clerk who witnessed what she thought to be the same lady buying the same shirt—twice! I'm sorry folks, you can call it coincidence, you can call it incredible, you can even call it a sister intuition, but I call it down right creepy!

And baby makes three

St. Peter's choir has a new bass! Choir member Mark Crawford, well actually choir member's wife Indus, had a little baby boy on June 13. Ian Joseph weighed in at 6 pounds, 7 ounces and even though he was a month early, all is fine with mom, dad and baby. Actually babies always seem to adjust fine to their new surroundings, it's the moms and dads that have a rough time.

I heard there have been some sleepless nights at the Crawford homestead. I speak from experience when I say, "You ain't seen nothing yet." Wait until teething starts and ear infections set in.

Babies are so pure, so uninhibited and so unpredictable. They do whatever they feel like whenever and wherever they are, no matter how much or how little you cuddle them. It kind of gets us parents prepared for those teenage years.

There's a definite transition period when you go from being pregnant to actually bringing your bouncing baby home; a kind of gray area that no book can ever prepare you for. By the time you reach this phase, you are already in the thick of it and it's too late to turn back, so you just hold on and plow through.

There will be days when all you have to do is gaze at your precious bundle and you will well up with tears as you count your blessings. And then there will be those days when you will be counting, but it will be more or less under your breath while reciting some very abrupt Hail Mary's.

Our best wishes to you all, and Mark, Indus, just in case you haven't already thought about this, do you have any idea how much college tuition will cost by the time Ian reaches that age?

Graduation honors

I received a hot tip about Deanne Olenick's recent graduation but when I called her mom, Darlene, to finalize some of Deanne's story, mom kind of stole the show.

Darlene couldn't recall a lot of the details and said there was a letter somewhere explaining all the critical information about the events that took place, but she couldn't seem to find the letter and thought that maybe her husband might have it. Darlene, you just lost out for "Mother of the Year." It doesn't matter, though, because this year the real star of the family is daughter Deanne.

Seems Deanne has been a busy little student at Lake Forest College. She graduated with a BA in education and psychology on May 15. (Well, at least her mom thought it was the 15th, she wasn't sure of the exact date but she did know it was one of those Saturdays in May—oh, you are battling a thousand here, Darlene!)

At Baccalaureate night Deanne was also bestowed the "Student Teacher of the Year" Award which was voted on by her professors at college. This was the first time the award had ever been given out, so all you future teachers have some pretty big shoes to fill if following in Deanne's footsteps—thank you very much, Deanne!

Not only did the honoree obtain a nice plaque to hang on her wall, but she also received a monetary award. Now, tight-lipped Darlene didn't disclose the amount—she probably thought I would want a percentage for publishing her tasty tidbit.

Our congratulations to you, Deanne, and we wish you all the best in your newest adventure: Finding a job!

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle"...don't forget to call 395-6364.

'Muffin' gets scholarship

Antioch Twp. resident Nancy Neckermann, AKA "Daisy Muffin the Clown," has been awarded a full scholarship to the 1995 session of Clown Camp® being held at the Univ. of Wisconsin (LaCrosse campus) to hone her present skills and to acquire advanced clowning techniques under the expert direction of professional instructors recruited from around the world.

Neckermann has been a performing clown for six years and is an active member of the World Clown Assn., the Clown Hall of Fame, Cousin Otto's Clown Alley, Southeast Wis. Magical Entertainers and the McHenry County Storytellers.

Clown Camp®, now in its 15th year, is directed by Dr. Richard "Snowflake" Snowberg, a professional clown and professor of education. Snowberg has assembled a staff of 50 clown instructors for this year's sessions, many who are instructors or graduates of Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Circus' Clown College. Clown Camp® is the largest and best known clown training program in the country. This year, over 200 performers from around the world are expected to attend.

St. Peter's kindergarten reads

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Although the 1995-1996 school year will be only the fourth year St. Peter has offered a kindergarten class, this full-day program is turning out young readers left and right. Using the Read, Write and Listen reading program, most of the tiny "graduates" this year can add reading to their list of summer activities.

"It's a magnificent program," said Principal Sharon Henriksen. "It is a fun way to learn to read, using a whole language concept."

The school has found the kindergarten program so popular, a second kindergarten class had to be formed. "We are just thrilled with the interest that has been taken in our school," said Henriksen.

Besides reading, children work on math skills as well as other academic subjects. "This is not a glorified baby-sitting program," Henriksen added. "Students come away with a lot of knowledge to succeed in first grade."

However, it is not all hard work either. Because it is a full-day program, there are rest periods and quiet times during the day to allow these young students time to rejuvenate themselves.

The full-day program provides more time for the teacher to get to know the students and offer specialized help. And, the big brother and big sister program at the school ensures no child ever feels left out.

"It is what makes St. Peter School a family," explained Henriksen. "The nurturing and caring among all of the students."

Along with the three "Rs" students learn socialization skills, self discipline, and basic religious instruction. Through encouragement of the entire school, these early learners improve their self esteem and confidence.

"There is an awful lot of basic skills they need to learn," said Henriksen. "Learning the basics of living is very important."

Throughout the year the kindergarten program offers musical recitals, field trips, the round up, field days, and culminates in a formal graduation.

With the addition of a second class this year, there are still openings in the kindergarten program. For more information call the school at 395-0037.

Boaters to vie for prizes on Venetian Night

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

On July 22, around dusk, Lake Catherine and Channel Lake will be filled with boaters vying for prizes at the first annual Venetian Night. Felter's Subdivision is organizing the event and hopes many residents in the Lake Catherine and Channel Lake area can participate.

"It is going to be a whole lot of fun," said Carole Jonites, president of Felters Association.

Participants are encouraged to begin their boat decorating ideas early. Prizes will be given for the best dressed and funniest boat.

"We already have some volunteer judges," said Jonites.

The launching area will be at the north beach in Felter's Subdivision on Addison Lane. Launching will be free, although a waterway sticker will be required.

Stickers will be available for purchase at the launch area.

"We will have the stickers for sale at the clubhouse," said Jonites. "No boat will be launched without one."

Hot dogs and refreshments will be served, and a keg will be tapped after the boating is completed. Registration for this event is required and there will be a $5 entrance fee. For more information call 395-0393 or 395-7371.

Spring Grove to appoint first economic development commission

RUTH SUTTON

Correspondent

Spring Grove is seeking community volunteers to fill six posts on its new Economic Development Commission.

The EDC was established to the village board June 21. The ordinance states, "to utilize the resources within the community as well as the expertise of its citizens in making the Village of Spring Grove a viable center for the expansion and development of commercial and industrial growth."

Trustee David Kielpinski was named the first chairperson, with Trustee Carol Bataills and President Robert Martens as village board representatives on the EDC, along with six citizens to be appointed.

In other action:

Trustees accepted an ordinance appropriating $1,534,074 for the coming year. They estimated revenue would include $1,107,490 for the general fund, plus $45,240 from motor fuel taxes. Among the budgeted figures are almost $125,000 for executive and legislative and $354,000 for the police department.

Fox Lake Ready Mix received an OK from the Spring Grove Village Board to build a plant in the Spring Ridge Industrial Park, located off Spring Grove Rd. south of Rte. 12. Trustees said they were satisfied with the information they had received at earlier discussions with the planning and zoning commissions, even though the firm had not submitted their plans in time to the Appearance Review Commission.

Spring Grove trustees approved an annexation and zoning ordinance for a 37-acre addition to KLM Builders' Breezy Lawn Estates. Extending the village to the state line but without direct road access to Wisconsin, Phase IV will include 26 lots with estate zoning, north of Rte. 173.

The Agency board plans to bring the issue up at the July 12 work meeting. Dam said the next scheduled project for the Agency is a spot in Fox River Grove in which water in front of the Lions Club Park will be cleaned out.

A small project will follow in Fox Valley River Gardens; and then the Agency crew will spend two weeks in Algonquin clearing out the Fox River as part of a park site.

Some projects on Pistakee Lake and Nippersink, as well as the Rte. 12 bridge are in the plans as well, said Dam.

Agency plans to clear out channel

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

If residents will pay for the trucking, then the Fox Waterway Agency said they'd be happy to do the dredging.

It would be similar to that of the double simultaneous projects done in Johnsbury and Dutch Creek a few months ago, said Waterway chairman Dr. William C. Dam.

Dam said dwellers on Fortress Ave. on what has been longtime called "Trinski's Channel" approached the Agency about badly needed dredging on the body of water near their homes.

Dam said about 2,300-cubic-feet of silt would have to be taken out of the channel and trucking costs and cleanup would equal an estimated $4,400.

The Agency would be willing to foot the bill on the use of their amphibious backhoe, as well as providing permits for the project but "We are asking private citizens to do the trucking," said Dam.

The chairman explained the Agency would like to see the Trinski Channel residents put the trucking money in a bank account before the project begins. The Agency has been stiffed in the past in similar situations, Dam said.

The Agency board plans to bring the issue up at the July 12 work meeting.

Dam said the next scheduled project for the Agency is a spot in Fox River Grove in which water in front of the Lions Club Park will be cleaned out.

A small project will follow in Fox Valley River Gardens; and then the Agency crew will spend two weeks in Algonquin clearing out the Fox River as part of a park site.

Some projects on Pistakee Lake and Nippersink, as well as the Rte. 12 bridge are in the plans as well, said Dam.

Rummage sale to continue

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

As a result of increased donations, the 36th Annual St. Peter Rummage Sale will continue on Thursday and Friday of this week from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The sale, which netted more than $30,000 last weekend alone, benefits St. Peter School.

"That amount is in line with last year's sale," said Co-chairman of the sale Claudette Skvarce. "This year's sale was tremendous as was last years."

This weekend will be bargain days with all clothing priced at only 25 cents. Antiques remaining will be sold at 1/2 price and other items at reduced costs. Anything left over after the sale will be donated to a veterans group, the Salvation Army, and the American Cancer Society.

The sale opened June 22, with a flock of people.

When the sale shut down that night, more than $17,000 had been taken in.

"On Thursday morning, they never stopped coming in until noon," said Skvarce. "We had more people and sold more than at previous sales."

Keeping the sale running smoothly were a virtual army of volunteers. Co-chairs Skvarce, Rich Krezeminski, and Larry Albrecht kept working non-stop all four days.

"Thanks to all the volunteers that helped us through some very hot days," said Skvarce. "We also appreciate the generosity of the community for all their donations."

The sale is sponsored by the St. Peter's Council of Catholic Women. The money generated by the sale stays in the parish and is distributed by the Council.

ACHS library enters information age

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Antioch High School library is preparing to go high tech for the start of the next school year.

New for the students will be access to the Internet, computer access to all collections, and a CD Rom capability as well. The technological improvements should add up to one thing—time saved.

"Students will be able to check out books and materials in a matter of seconds," said Librarian Kathy Brown.

All of the library's 24,000 volumes of collections will be bar coded. The coding will enable the staff to check out the book in seconds and tell students when a book will be available.

For research purposes, a computer terminal will be installed. Students can just type up a subject and they can get a printout of all the books available on that topic.

Also, with the CD ROM tower, magazine articles can be accessed in the same way. No longer will students have to page through Reader's Guide's to find articles on a given subject.

Students won't need to look at a card catalogue to access the library's collections.

In addition, the school expects to have complete access to the Internet. Internet is a clearinghouse of information on a limitless amount of topics. Information around the world is shared on this network.

Government grants helped finance the cost of CD ROM and the computer network.

Rescue Squad gears up for auction

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Rescue Squad is gearing up for its annual auction, which will be held on Aug. 6. The event is held in conjunction with the Antioch Lions Club Chicken Barbecue and always draws a huge crowd.

"This is our major source of funding along with bequeathments," said Tim Osmond, the squad's new interim chief. "We don't have a source of revenue from taxes. We are not affiliated with the fire department."

The all volunteer squad of 25 active members, including 19 paramedics and 6 EMTAs (or in training) use the funds generated through the auction for new equipment, supplies, community education, and vehicle maintenance.

The group is accepting donations already for the event. For the most part the auction offers new items only. Although, some antiques are auctioned off. New this year will be the auctioning of service items such as fishing trips and fly-arounds.

"If people want to make cash donations, the club will purchase items for auction," said Osmond. Club members will be out in the community canvassing for donations during the next few weeks. "Each merchant will be asked," said Osmond.

Additional funds slated for Fox Waterway Agency

Funding levels for the newly renamed Fox Waterway Agency were increased to match the additional duties and responsibilities empowered to the agency in legislation sponsored by state Rep. Robert W. Churchill.

House Majority Leader Churchill (R-Antioch) announced an increase of $100,000 in the money from the State Boating Act Fund over last year's level of $75,000. Capital projects include sediment containment, wetlands restoration, additional equipment, building acquisitions and other projects, of which $3,932,200 was appropriated.

"These funds are vital to the preservation of the Chain O' Lakes, one of the state's most beautiful natural resources," said the Lake County Republican.

"With the new legislation and the increase in funds, we will finally be able to protect this ecological gem for many more generations to enjoy."

This legislative session, Churchill sponsored a bill in the House which shortened the name of the agency, granted additional operational powers and authorized the agency to appoint an executive director to oversee day-to-day operations.

The original Chain O' Lakes-Fox Waterway Management Agency was created by a public referendum to address environmental concerns on the Chain. In 1994, the voters approved another referendum extending the life of the waterway agency for an indefinite period.

Churchill predicts the governor will sign the legislation this summer.

American Flags will be sold during the parade for $1 and a surprise event is also planned. Williams Park is located off Main Street behind the Antioch Public Library.

Reese captures Regatta win

Norm Reese, a veteran C scow skipper, conjured high winds and waves to capture the Midwest Invitational Regatta at Delavan Lake, Wis.

Dividing his allegiance between home base, the Long Lake Yacht Club and Lake Geneva Yacht Club, Reese included a victory and two seconds in the five-race event.

C boat crews faced gusts up to 35 mph in opening day's action.

Employing his wife, Suzi, and daughter Katie as crew, the Ingleside attorney planned to test national competition at Chatauqua, N.Y.

Lake Villa, Antioch teams do battle on baseball field

The juices seem to flow more rapidly when rival Antioch and Lake Villa square off against each other in youth baseball.

The two Pony teams met to see who would earn bragging rights this year. The Antioch A Travelers hosted the Lake Villa A traveling team.

Lake Villa's Pat Straub, however, immediately set the tone of the game as the lead-off hitter smacked a solo shot over the new fence in Antioch. The fence was just installed prior to the game.

Just like that, Lake Villa led 1-0 before Antioch could break a sweat.

"You could see the wind go out of their sails when he hit that home run," said Lake Villa Coach George Zorich.

Lake Villa went on to control the game to a 13-3 victory, preserving its undefeated (13-0) record in the American Amateur Baseball Congress.

Starting pitcher Brett McCollum hurled a no-hitter until two were out in the bottom of the seventh inning.

"Brett was definitely fired up. He really shut them down," Zorich said.

'You could see the wind go out of their sails when he hit that home run.'

—George Zorich,
 Lake Villa Coach

Antioch spoiled the no-hitter when Ryan Clutts ripped a single up the middle, stole second, and scored on a Ken Cichon RBI-single. Chris Gaulin then blasted a 270-foot homer over the fence to give Antioch its final two runs.

"We made some errors in the field and didn't hit," said Antioch Assistant Coach John Logan. "Lake Villa is a good hitting team. We just got beat by the better team."

McCollum was equally exciting at the plate as was on the mound. He had three hits, including a baseloaded double that scored two runs in the seventh inning.

Ryan Davis also had a key double in the third inning to score two runs. Zorich also credited his team's defense for providing a solid performance.

"We played a mental, error-free game," Zorich said. "It's a continual improvement strategy."

Logan credited the Lake Villa team, but he also said the Antioch (8-4) team will be back on the winning track.

"We're pretty good, but we didn't show up to play like we used to," Logan said. "We'll be allright."

Waves begin in record-breaking fashion

The Antioch Waves (under 8) medley relay team of Megan Petkus, Kaitlyn Ament, Catherine Eshbach and Jessica Horsch set a new pool record as the Waves opened their summer swim season.

The Antioch Waves swim team began its season with a practice meet and three Antioch Pool swim records were broken.

Leading the U-8 girls in new backstroke records were Meagan Petkus (30.25 seconds) and Renee Riedel (32.21). Leading the U-8 boys in backstroke was Andrew Farrell (31.92).

The U-8 boys freestyle relay team of Farrell, Ross LeFave, Tony Carr and David Roy set a new record.

The Waves won their first meet against Woodstock with a score of 361-267. Setting Antioch team records were the girls medley team of Petkus, Kaitlyn Ament, Catherine Eshbach and Jessica Horsch.

Ross LeFave set a new 50-yard freestyle record, Terri Mozal set a new 13- and 14-year-old girls' breaststroke record, and Rodney Behm established a record for the 50-yard freestyle for over-15 boys.

Other first-place winners for the Waves were Christine Fusz and Kris Vanderkooy (11- and 12-year-old, 50-yard freestyle), Stephanie Willding, Kaitianne Pechauer, Dawn DeSeri, Brian Saunders and David Ano (breaststroke).

Vasey notches second no-hitter for RL Colts

"His fastball was humming tonight," Round Lake Colts Manager Glen Jewell said.

The author of those fast strikes to home plate was Matt Vasey, who fired a no-hitter as Round Lake clubbed Waukegan II 10-0 in five innings.

"He kept the fastball nice and low, threw the curve to keep them off-balance and finished them off with high heat," Jewell described.

Vasey has a chance for a perfect game, but surrendered a two-out, fifth inning walk. He fanned nine batters and let the defense take care of the other six outs.

He also contributed a 2-of-4 night at bat.

"It was strictly my fastball," Vasey said.

Any pre-game preparation? "I just stayed around and took it easy," he commented.

Vasey, a Grayslake High player, became the second Colt to fire a no-hitter. Sean Eaton was the first. Dave Weber and Nate Brewer have two hitters.

"I played last year and we knew we would have a good pitching staff," Vasey said.

The Tuesday win improves Round Lake to 10-1-1 in Colt league (age 15-16) action, 24-6-1 overall.

A six-run first inning set the tone at home for Round Lake. Vince Fleming delivered a 3-run triple.

Eaton was the main sparkplug once again. He was 4-of-4, scored 2 runs and had 4 RBI including a 2-run homer. "He just crushed the ball. The pitcher threw a hanging curveball and Eaton's eyes looked like water-mellons," Jewell described.

"We can't get any more confident. We are playing great baseball now," Vasey commented.

Bench presser breaks U.S. record

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

When Leroy Chapman power benched 446 pounds, he learned he set a new national record in the bench press.

Chapman later learned his mark also tied a world record.

The 30-year-old from Round Lake is currently training in the hopes of breaking the world record at the World Cup Bench Press Championships in Oklahoma City Aug. 12-14.

"I think I can bench more," Chapman said after setting the national record at the Grand National Bench and Powerlift Championships. "I'm going to shoot for 456 pounds. If I can stick that bench, I should place in the top five in the world."

Chapman will be competing with the world's top power lifters from Germany, Hungary, Great Britain, Spain and France. "It's going to be tough competition. Usually Germany has a strong team," Chapman noted.

What makes Chapman's feat all the more significant is that he is drug and chemical free. Chapman power lifts through the Natural Athletics Strength Association.

During the 1980s when steroids and other chemicals

'To me it's a personal and mental sport. It's you against a number. In football or wrestling, you can intimidate your opponent. How do you intimidate a bar? What motivates me is to keep progressing in the sport.'

— Leroy Chapman.
power lifter

were widely used, power lifters benched weights surpassing 700 pounds. Many records were eventually stripped because the lifters used drugs to increase their strength.

"In the early '80s the weights were outrageous," Chapman said. "Today, they're clean. I have a lot of respect for that."

He said power lifters who train drug-free can reach marks in the 500-pound range, but Chapman said it takes many years of training to reach that mark. He said natural lifters usually reach their peak between 35 and 40 years old. Chapman is 30.

"With a drug-free lifter, it takes that long to build your strength cleanly," Chapman said. "You are able to lift longer. As times goes on, I still think there will be a lot of records beat."

Chapman has been lifting weights since he was a freshman at Round Lake High School. He trains regularly at Chandler's Family Fitness Center in Lindenhurst.

"To me it's a personal and mental sport. It's you against a number," Chapman said of power lifting. "In football or wrestling, you can intimidate your opponent. How do you intimidate a bar? What motivates me is to keep progressing in the sport."

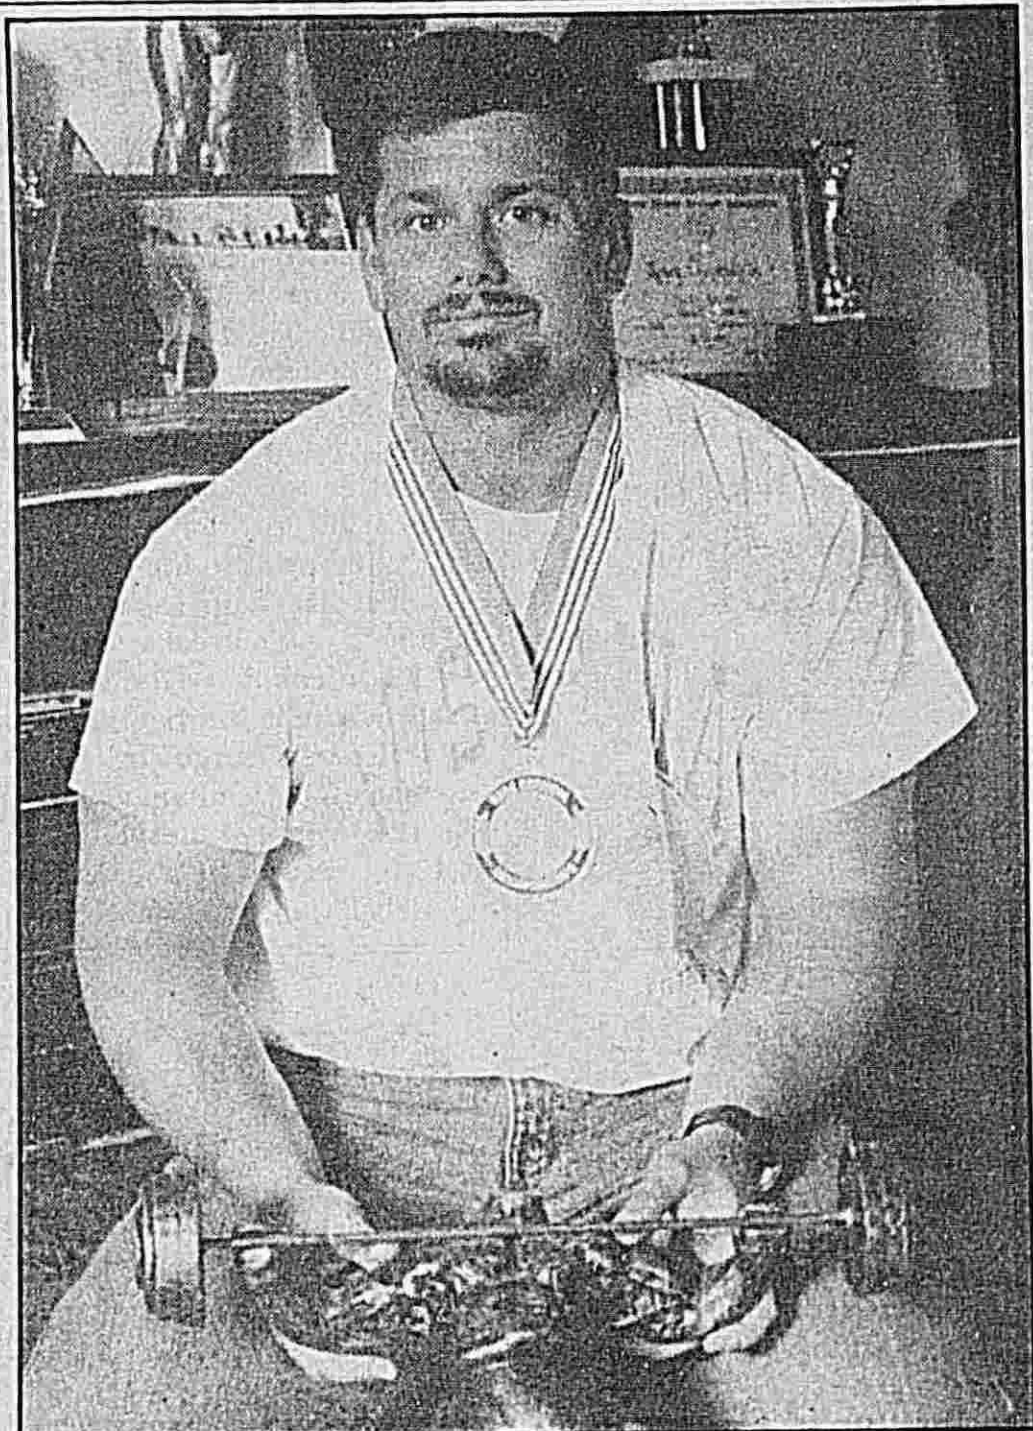

Although Chapman tied the world record at 446 pounds, he says he has lifted more than 450 pounds in a gym. He says now that steroid use has pretty much evaporated from the scene, he believes the sport has become more popular and more younger people are starting at earlier ages.

"In the future, I think it's going to be a lot of fun, which is good for the sport," Chapman said. "I look forward to seeing what the kids can do with the sport."

Chapman still has eyes set on trying out for the Olympic team. The sport is due to become a demonstration sport in the next Summer Games in 1996.

His advice to other aspiring Olympic hopefuls:

"Persevere, never give up. Set obtainable goals. Pick realistic numbers. Stay clean, because you don't need it and it's a false sense of security."

Round Lake power lifter Leroy Chapman broke the national record in the bench press and will be seeking to set a new world record.

Vikings plan registration for football

Antioch Youth Football will host annual registration for the new season in four sessions.

The Vikings will hold registration June 30 and July 1 from 6 to 9 p.m. and 9 a.m. to 12 p.m., respectively. Parents should bring a copy of their child's birth certificate.

Fees are $40 for 5 to 8 years, $60 for fourth grade and up. There are special rates for families with more than one child participating. New this year is a flag football instructional league for ages 5 to 8 years old.

Divisions, ages 9 to 14 years include: Peepees, Featherweights, Middleweights, Lightweight and Heavyweights. Heavyweights and Lightweight won league titles last year.

There are 28 coaches who volunteer their time to help coach the future Sequoits. Roth, a former linebacker in high school and at Eastern Illinois University, said the goal is to have coaches be former football players.

"We try to help their discipline outside of football as well," Al Roth, Vikings president, said.

A July 22 clinic is planned at Antioch High School. A $25 fee includes a t-shirt.

For more information, call Roth at 395-1247.

Golf courses plan tourneys

Bristol Oaks Country Club and Spring Valley Country Club will be holding junior team championships.

Bristol Oaks Country Club will hold its championship July 17. Cost is $20. Flights will be according to grade level one is entering into next year. Trophies and medals will be awarded.

Spring Valley will hold its junior championship Aug. 7. Entry fees before July 10 are $30 per team, after July 10 are $40 per team.

Tee times will be drawn and mailed to all participants one week prior to the tournament. Participants must mail checks for both tournaments to: Junior Golf, Box 12, Pleasant Prairie, Wis. 53158. For more information, call (414) 862-2626.

Great Lakes' second woman leader takes helm

Rear Admiral Patricia A. Tracey relieved Rear Admiral Mack C. Gaston as Commander Naval Training Center Great Lakes in a formal change of command ceremony, June 28.

Tracey reports to Great Lakes from her previous assignment at the Pentagon where she served as Director for Manpower and Personnel on the staff of the Joint Chiefs.

As Commander, Naval Training Center Great Lakes, Tracey becomes the senior Navy officer in the Midwest and assumes responsibilities as Area Coordinator, Regional Planning Agent, and for disaster preparedness activities in a seven-state area.

More than 4,000 visitors were on hand for the formal ceremony on historic Ross Field.

Rear Admiral Gaston, who assumed command at Great Lakes in July 1992, retired from active duty following the change of command.

Tracey will lead Naval Training Center through the completion of construction programs to accommodate the consolidation of all Navy training at the center. All men and women who enter the Navy complete their initial recruit training at Great Lakes. Additionally, the Service School Command at Great Lakes provides technical training to more than 20,000 students annually. More than three dozen other commands and supporting activities are co-located at Great Lakes.

Tracey was born in the Bronx, New York and received her commission in 1970.

She holds a master of science degree in Operations Research from the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, Calif., and a bachelors degree in Mathematics from College of New Rochelle, N.Y.

Tracey has served as Commanding Officer of Naval Station, Long Beach, Calif., and Commanding Officer, Chief of Naval Technical Training, Treasure Island, Calif.

She is the second female to command the Naval Training Center. Admiral Roberta Hazard was commander from 1986-1988.

Gaston has accepted a position with WMX Technologist, a waste management company in Oak Brook. Gaston will be vice president for leadership resources.

Tollway Authorities delete Rte. 53 toll booth

JENNIFER WHISENAND

Staff Reporter

Mundelein residents breathed a sigh of relief with the announcement a proposed tollbooth near Mechanics Grove Elementary school was no longer being considered.

"The toll booth location near Mechanics Grove Elementary School has been taken off the study," said Illinois State Toll Highway Authority (ISTHA) Project Coordinator Morgan L. Cotten. "We are still studying the two plaza concept, but the site near Mechanics Grove is not a possibility for a plaza," he added.

Mundelein Village Board members spoke to the Toll Highway Authorities about their concerns on the location of the toll booths through Mundelein during a meeting of the two groups.

"We are trying to address all the comments from the communities, many of which have been noteworthy," said ISTHA Engineer of Planning James Canham. "We have received comments and suggestions from communities through the CPC process as late as last week," he added.

Canham said it would be premature to announce a preferred plaza location until the agency has the opportunity to fully evaluate the comments from these communities.

One alternative is a dual plaza design which would incorporate two mainline plazas, one located between Old McHenry Road and Gilmer Road and one located between Almond Road and Route 45.

The other alternative is a single mainline plaza concept with the plaza located somewhere between Route 176 and Winchester Road.

With the elimination of the plaza near Mechanics Grove School, the remaining plaza location is situated just south of Winchester Road.

One alternative that has been proposed is to move the location for the single plaza concept north of Winchester Road rather than the current site south of Winchester Road to avoid residential impacts.

SWALCO to start pilot commercial recycling program

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

A select number of businesses will be called upon to participate in a pilot recycling program to reduce the amount of waste and refuse they produce.

The Solid Waste Agency of Lake County is offering the commercial recycling program on a limited basis for one year as another way to expand upon recycling opportunities for businesses, said Andrew J. Quigley, SWALCO executive director.

SWALCO has agreed to underwrite the first year expenses, including service and containers, for businesses in four communities who choose to participate, tentatively beginning Nov. 1, he said.

The program is estimated to cost SWALCO $50,000, which officials are willing to pay as "an incentive" for communities to try, Quigley said.

"This is our second program aimed to encourage and facilitate the collection of recyclables in the commercial sector," he said.

The first is Environomics, a series of six seminars offered to businesses on ways they can reduce waste and recycle. The fourth seminar will be held at the end of September, sponsored by the Lake County Chamber of Commerce, Quigley said.

A similar commercial collection program is conducted in Park Ridge, where costs are $22 per dumpster/per month based on a one year contract, according to reports.

SWALCO staff members anticipate submitting pricing proposals less than the amount per container in Park Ridge due to improved materials pricing currently being experienced within the marketplace, according to officials.

Communities have until Aug. 1 to notify SWALCO of their interest in participating. Communities will be considered based on the level of municipal support, presence of an active business organization willing to assist in the program and a level of interest within the business community. A source of funding for the second year of the program will also be among criteria used.

"We think commercial businesses will realize recycling is good business sense," Quigley said, adding it could wind up reducing the amount of liability in cleaning up a land fill in the long-run if the business can demonstrate an effective waste reduction program.

Area haulers will be chosen to submit bid proposals in September, with staff working with selected business communities and haulers in selecting the most appropriate placement of collection containers in October.

In-house collection bins will be submitted to businesses two weeks before the program will start.

Alzheimer's patients part of study program

Physicians at Northwestern Univ. Medical School have announced that they are participating in the largest ever global clinical research trials program conducted for a new experimental drug to treat the symptoms of Alzheimer's disease. Approximately 40 patients with probably mild to moderate Alzheimer's disease will take part in the ADENA (Alzheimer's Dementia with SDZ ENA 713) research program at Northwestern Memorial Hospital.

Alzheimer's disease is a progressive and ultimately fatal degenerative disease of the brain. It is estimated that four million Americans suffer from Alzheimer's, translating into one person in 20 over the age of 65, and one in five people over the age of 80. Few drugs are available to treat the symptoms of Alzheimer's disease.

The purpose of the ADENA research program is to test the effectiveness and tolerability of different doses of the experimental drug compared to placebo. To be eligible for the ADENA research study patients must be:

- At least 50 years of age;
- Diagnosed as having probably Alzheimer's disease;
- In stable health; and
- Have a responsible caregiver.

Alzheimer's patients and their caregivers can learn more about the ADENA research program by calling Maureen Moran at (312)503-0500.

Alzheimer's disease is especially difficult for drug development since there is no easy way to measure the effect of treatment on the symptoms of the disease. An effective medicine for Alzheimer's should produce an improvement in the patient's cognitive ability, behavioral function and activities of daily living. Cognitive ability refers to mental function such as memory, reasoning and orientation to time and space, and behavioral function refers to personality, mood and social graces. The normal activities of daily living include everyday tasks such as shopping, driving, bathing and feeding oneself.

In addition to the other established scales, ADENA investigators will use the Clinicians Interview Based Impression of Change (CIBIC)-Plus, using a semi-structured interview to assess the global changes in the patient's status. The CIBIC-Plus interview guide allows the clinician to evaluate the patient's cognitive impairment and behavioral function, plus it incorporates the caregiver's insight into the patient's behavior and daily life activities. Thus, in the ADENA research program, caregivers will play an important role in the clinical evaluation of patients.

Victory speakers provide resource

Planning for the 1995-96 club year is about to begin, and program chairmen for local organizations can arrange informative, entertaining programs by calling Victory Memorial Hospital's Speakers Bureau.

Topics range from health-related issues like "Reducing Fat in Our Diets" and "Women and Heart Disease" to discussions of self-help programs like "Time Management" and "Developing Self Esteem." Speakers are available to discuss areas of professional growth like "Career Redirection" and "Dual Careers—Combining Career and Marriage." They also address a number of family related issues, including "You and Your Aging Parents," "Single Parenting," and "Effective Family Communication."

In addition to the many topics outlined in Victory's brochures, the speaker's bureau will develop programs based on the interest of specific organization. Presentations will be made at outside meeting locations or arrangements can be made to present the program at the hospital.

The hospital offers brochures listing dozens of topics for presentations. To receive free copies, call 1-800-843-2464 between 7 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Fire thought to be arson

FOX LAKE—Fire investigators from the Fox Lake Fire Department are busy looking for clues from what appears to be a case of arson down the street from their station. On Sunday June 25 around 6:17 p.m. while firefighters were on their way home from the annual Fox Lake Village Employee Picnic, sirens sounded. The location of the fire was at the former site of T.B. Waters on the south end of Washington St. next to the Superwash car wash. The blaze took place in an unattached garage directly behind the bar. Investigator and Fire Captain Ken Buchardt explained it looks like arson since the tavern had been vacant for several months, and all utilities had been shut off. The fire took about 40 minutes to extinguish, Buchardt said.

The officer, whose name has not been released by Gurnee police, was transported to St. Therese Medical Center and released. Charged with improper lane usage and possession of alcohol by a minor is Justin Hanlin of Gurnee. Hanlin, age 19, was trying to turn left into a driveway on Gages Lake Road June 22 when he struck the police car. A passenger in his car was taken to St. Therese Medical Center by Gurnee Fire Department paramedics but was not hurt. All parties were wearing seat belts, according to police reports.

Grayslake getting new dealer

GRAYSLAKE—Grayslake may soon get a second car dealership if a developer's plans come to pass. The planned Canterbury Estates subdivision on the south side of the village includes a 5.6 acre out lot the developers says has garnered the interest of car dealers. No other details on the identity of the prospective car dealer were released during a plats and subs committee meeting, which approved the building of 74 single family homes in the $250,000 to $400,000 price range in the proposed subdivision.

Impact fee increased

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Village Board has increased developer impact fees. This is the first time the fees have been increased since 1989. Elementary schools will receive an average of 77 percent of the money, while Antioch Community High School will get 23 percent. School officials and village officials worked together on the new schedule. "They came up with a pretty sophisticated document," said District 34 Superintendent Dan Burke.

Trustees balk at meetings

LAKE ZURICH—Two trustees are refusing to participate in committee meetings until Mayor Deborah A. Vasels is allowed to return. A majority bloc ousted Vasels from her role as chair of the committee of the whole by creating the committee of trustees. Karen Demos-Rosenthal and Gary Winchester have stated they will only attend board meetings until the situation is remedied.

Park budget plan gains nod

GURNEE—Gurnee Park Board members approved a new budget and are moving forward with several park site plans. The board unanimously approved the 1995-96 fiscal year budget. The budget is for $3,806,281 while the appropriation ordinance is $4,579,400. "The appropriation was increased by 14 percent over the 1994-95 fiscal year. The total assessed valuation of the district rose by 14 percent," Betty Russell, director, said. The tax rate has dropped from 33.8 cents per $100 of assessed value to 32 cents. The University Park project was presented and approved.

Sale to continue extra week

ANTIOCH—As a result of increased donations, the 36th Annual St. Peter Rummage Sale will continue on Thursday and Friday of this week from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. "This year's sale was tremendous, as was last year's," said co-chairman Claudette Skvarce. This weekend will be bargain days with all clothing priced at only 25 cents. Antiques remaining will be sold at 1/2 price and other items at reduced costs.

present our preferred location to the CPC when we have made a decision," said Canham.

The Tollway is currently in the process of evaluating the feasibility of the new proposed location which would necessitate closing Winchester Road where it crosses the alignment, to allow a safe sight distance when approaching the plaza, stated Cotten.

Mundelein Mayor Marilyn Sindles said she thought the Tollway Authorities have made substantial progress lately in working with the communities and addressing residential concerns.

Two separate alternatives for plaza designs were presented to the CPC in January and the presentations were repeated for the communities along the corridor.

Communities were asked to submit comments and evaluations of the plaza sites to the CPC and the information was forwarded to the Tollway Authorities.

Mayor of Libertyville and President of the CPC Jo Ann Eckmann said CPC would send out a memo within the next two weeks to keep the communities posted on what ISTHA is doing.

"There are many players we have to get out and talk to still," said Canham.

Tollway Authorities stated they could not say for certain they would know the tollbooth locations by the next meeting, but that are hoping to.

When the floor was opened up to the public Allen Stubitsch of Mundelein Against the Tollway, asked why the Mechanics Grove toll booth location was taken off the plans.

"If it is because of environmental and safety concerns, wouldn't the same concerns be looked at and addressed for those homes near the tollway," Stubitsch asked.

"There were impacts at this location that were greater than the other sites, which made it less favorable," Cotten said. "A tollway and a plaza are two different entities and are looked at separately," he added.

Reasons the Mechanics Grove location was dropped were the proximity to the Route 176 interchange, because of a residential area and a little had to do with the school location.

Lake County GOP calling 'fore' some fun at annual GOP open

"The Lake County Republican Central Committee invites everyone 'fore' a day of fun, while raising funds for the Lake County Republican Party at the 1995 Lake County Republican Open," stated Patricia Page, general chairman of this year's open. The open, held annually, is scheduled for Monday, July 10.

"As ticket committee chairman, I wish to extend an invitation to everyone who wishes to participate in the 1995 Republican Open," remarked Robert P. Neal, Lake County Board Commissioner, Dist. 2, and former chairman of the Lake County Republican Party.

Neal continued, "This year's open is expected to be our most successful ever. With the new Republican majorities in Springfield and Washington, D.C., citizens are coming to expect that promises made by Republicans are promises kept by Republicans. This belief has been felt in Lake County for years, but it's especially pleasing now that it is also transpiring in our state and national capitols as well. People are enjoying our party's newfound status and are now more supportive than ever."

To accommodate the anticipated largest field of golfers ever to participate in the annual Republican Open, this year's open committee has announced that everything will take place at Countryside Golf Course in Mundelein. Countryside Golf Course has two 18-hole courses, and both will be used all day. There will be two shotgun starting tee times—8 a.m. and 1 p.m. A cocktail hour will be held from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., with the buffet chicken and steak dinner beginning at 6:30 p.m. A brief program, including addresses by Republican elected officials and the announcement of golf and raffle prize winners will start promptly at 7:30 p.m.

Another new addition to this year's open is the golf ticket donation—the entire golf package of breakfast, lunch, dinner, golf with cart and door prizes is $100. For patrons who wish to only attend dinner, dinner-only tickets are available for $40. For golf package or dinner-only reservations contact Lake County Republican Headquarters at 680-6680.

Animal rightists fail in rodeo case

Now that summer has arrived, rodeo season is at hand. Not far behind are animal rights activists, who find the popular exhibitions of western stock handling as the ultimate in creature cruelty.

Rightists already have launched attacks against the annual Wauconda Rodeo, a favorite target for several years. Funny, organized rodeo opponents have not singled out rodeo shows presented at the Lake County Fair, a popular feature over the years at the largest county exposition in Illinois.

Early communications indicate a subtle change in tactics, a shift of what the public sees with its own eyes to what only the professed protectors of animals can see. As related in a communication from the Humane Society of the United States, "much of the harsh treatment of rodeo animals occurs behind the scene, away from public scrutiny."

By going "back stage," anti-rodeo voices could be making a back-hand admission that their confrontational approach no longer is effective, if it ever was. Time will tell. As indicated by HSUS spokesman Phillip R. Snyder, rodeo foes want sponsors to seek other forms of fundraising and Lake County residents to stop patronizing rodeo.

Certainly, there is ample evidence of animal cruelty in society, and thus a place for organized animal protection. But rodeo foes haven't been able to make their case stick. They ought to concentrate on other forms of animal cruelty. None of us have to look very far for examples.

Toll chiefs ignore east-west needs

A proposal by the Illinois State Toll Highway Authority to close Winchester Rd. to make room for a toll plaza serving the Rte. 53 tollway exposes a glaring weakness and wholesale hypocrisy in transportation planning in this locality.

When needs of local motorists are crying for upgraded cross county roadways, the tollway czars have the unmitigated gall to call for closing an east-west thoroughfare. Chased away from other proposed collection sites in Mundelein and Hawthorn Woods by angry neighbors, at this point tollway officials appear ready to establish toll boxes anywhere. Basically, their chief criteria appears to be a point of least resistance.

By ignoring a critical Lake County need, the tollway bosses have raised the point, perhaps inadvertently, for whom is the Rte. 53 extension being built? If, as it has been suggested, that Rte. 53 will expedite the flow of trucks from New York and Pennsylvania through congested Chicago, what's in the super duper highway package for local residents.

—Viewpoint— How insurance policy could aid crime fight

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

Here's an idea that has possibilities. It comes from the fertile mind of Ed Surroz, an always-on-the-go real estate broker and builder.

Surroz still is troubled by the murder of Waukegan appliance merchant Fred Reckling, who was gunned down a year ago by unknown assailants at his place of business in Gurnee in a robbery. Surroz and Reckling were both business and family friends. Their children grew up together.

Through the medium of insurance, Surroz wants to create a pool—a big pool—of reward money for information leading to the arrest and conviction of outlaws who kill local business persons while committing a crime.

"I want would-be robbers to know that they will have a big price on their head as soon as they pull the trigger," exclaimed Surroz, a World War II Navy veteran. He's thinking of a $100,000 reward.

"That ought to get the attention of underworld characters, even drug dealers."

Insurance for the reward pool would be created by adding a small assessment to every Chamber of Commerce membership. Surroz said the insurance benefit by itself ought to be enough to hype membership in business organizations.

The Reckling death remains an unsolved mystery. The only clew police have was the discovery of his car in Chicago. "Somewhere, someone knows exactly what happened. We've got to get them to come forward for a big reward," Surroz commented.

—COMMENTARY— People elect taxers who gutted Tax Cap

STATE REP. CAL SKINNER JR., 64TH DIST.

It was broad daylight, but none of the daily newspapers in Cook County thought repealing half of the Property Tax Cap was worth a story. Little wonder since the editorial boards did not share taxpayer enthusiasm over this limit on spiraling real estate taxes.

When Gov. Edgar's Tax Cap was passed in 1991, it had two parts:

First, the Tax Cap limited the amount of money a tax district could collect to what it had collected the year before, plus any increase in the cost of living.

Secondly, the Tax Cap abolished non-referendum bonds.

Taxpayers easily understood the first part, but giving power back to the voters to decide whether and when to borrow money was more complex and ignored by the media. The last day of the session, both the Illinois House and Senate repealed the requirement that voters in Cook and the collar counties approve the sale of bonds.

The result is a gold mine for bond houses and lawyers. Now, a mere majority of a tax district board may re-issue any non-referendum bonds that are paid off. In effect, the General Assembly has granted all tax districts the power to re-issue outstanding non-referendum debt, again and again—in effect a permanent revolving charge account.

Nobody really knows what this will mean in extra tax dollars to be extracted from our pocketbooks. For park districts, we know that collar county taxpayers will miss a one-third cut in taxes because of this partial repeal of Gov. Edgar's Tax Cap. We also know that the average forest preserve district taxpayer in DuPage, Kane, Lake and Will counties will miss out on an almost 60-percent tax cut.

But, this repeal of the second half of the Tax Cap is much, much worse.

Getting part of the action are schools, municipalities, counties, townships, libraries, community colleges, you name it. Any tax district that sold bonds without a referendum prior to 1994 will be able to continue that discredited practice.

My colleagues yielded to incredible pressure from tax district officials. These taxing officials used our tax dollars to lobby their way further into our pocketbooks, while taxpayers were out working hard to pay the taxes these folks already levied.

If you want Gov. Edgar to veto this tax grab, you better get to a phone and call (312)814-2121. Get your neighbors to call, too, because as soon as the taxing officials see this, they will be calling from their offices using your 35 cents or more to pay for the phone call.

—LETTERS TO THE EDITOR— Chemicals threaten lake

Editor:

I am a homeowner on Lake Linden in Lindenhurst and I am tired to cleaning dead fish off of my shoreline. The lake was "treated" with chemicals May 30, and a week later the fish were floating in the water. Sounds like no "treat" for those fish! Besides the fact that homeowners received no notification of the chemical application, it seems to me that this technique of "lake management" (or is it mismanagement?) is simply not working. It is time to re-think this issue.

We are the caretakers of this lake, and the village of Lindenhurst keeps pouring dangerous chemicals into it, resulting in dead fish and very murky water. The former Lakes Committee tried to deal with this issue last summer, but lost the battle. Some say the chemicals are safe for humans, but are they really? As a chemist, I know that exposure to some chemicals can cause problems years down the road. See LETTERS page B5

PARTY LINES

Gear shifting impact would hit county board

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Election '96, not that far away, is drawing the attention of Lake County's professional politicians.

Richardson

County Board Rep. Bob Neal (R-Wadsworth), the man of many hats, has dropped inklings that he wouldn't mind succeeding venerable County Recorder Frank Nustra, who appears to be winding down a distinguished career in public office.

More than a few Republicans are watching Coroner Barbara Richardson for signs of her intentions for 1996 and asking "what if?" questions.

Party Lines was intrigued with a report that County Board Rep. John Schullen (R-Libertyville) would jump at the chance of becoming coroner if Richardson retires. As a dental practitioner, Schullen would offer strong credentials. And he still could keep his post as county GOP chairman.

With Neal and Schullen shifting gears, the "what if?" games includes the future political Schullen makeup of the county board. More and more observers see 1996 as a watershed year.

Schullen

On the links—Modern farmers that they are, Farm Bureau members proved they know their way around a golf course at their annual outing. The roster of players looked like a political Who's Who of Lake County.

Payback time—That by-play between activist Jack Martin and former Libertyville Twp. Assessor Bill Swanson can be traced to the last township election. Martin backed loser Marty Paulson and Swanson favored the eventual winner, Assessor Dennis Jagla.

Quayle draft—Influential Republicans in Lake County have been contacted by the Americans for Quayle Presidential Draft Committee headquartered in Nashville. The grassroots movement is out to convince the former vice president that he's the one person "who can bring both experience and integrity to the job." Don't expect any of the GOP pros to jump on this band wagon.

Taking credit—A good bit of bickering is going on in Antioch over Mayor Marilyn Shineflug taking full credit for enactment of the new Antioch-Lindenhurst boundary agreement.

Shineflug detractors claim Larry Hanson, whom Shineflug defeated in the 1993 mayoral race, offered the agreement plan as part of his campaign plank. And Hanson reportedly was steered to the idea by a local attorney.

All right, already. So the agreement was finalized during Shineflug's administration.

Job seekers—The county's unemployment figures will be taking a slight upward nudge with First of America Bank's decision to consolidate bookkeeping operations at a center near Midway Airport.

With the Prez—Hub and Grace Mary Stern made sure Lake County was well represented at a Democratic fund-raiser at the Chicago Hilton and Stern Towers where President Clinton was the main speaker. Stern, who is a prominent Chicago attorney, and Grace Mary, former state senator, are residents of Highland Park.

Heading east—Former College of Lake County President Dan LaVista will be leaving the county permanently by mid-August. He assumes a new post of chancellor of Baltimore, Md., community colleges Sept. 1. CLC trustees are engaged in a search for his successor.

New dad—David Kohn, press secretary to Congressman John Porter, is getting over the new dad jitters. Dave and his wife, Julie, welcomed Keith Russell Kohn, six pounds, four ounces, to their home in Mundelein. The Kohns have a host of friends throughout Lake County from Dave's days in Waukegan radio.

Picnic at your own risk—It seems that when Fox Lake village officials take to the baseball diamond in Veterans Park to play a little softball at the annual employee picnic, there is always at least one injury. A co-worker filled in as electrician Warren Ofenolch of the village water treatment plant was transported by ambulance to the Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry where he received 14 stitches in his hand after scooping up the ball too close to the chain link fence. Mayor Ken Hamscher broke his pager and scrapped an elbow when he slid into first base. "At least I was safe," beamed the mayor. Police Chief Jim Busch said he doesn't like his officers playing ball at the picnic's anymore, especially since patrolman C. Joe Gliniewicz broke his ankle at last year's event. "I can't afford to lose 'em. I'm short (officers) now," said Busch.

Gaining attention—Senator William Peterson met with Mundelein

Against the Tollway chairman Allen Stubitsch Tuesday to discuss the proposed extension of Route 53 through Lake County trying to gain the lawmakers attention on the controversial issue. Peterson has often heard the rallies against the project from his Vernon Township constituents.

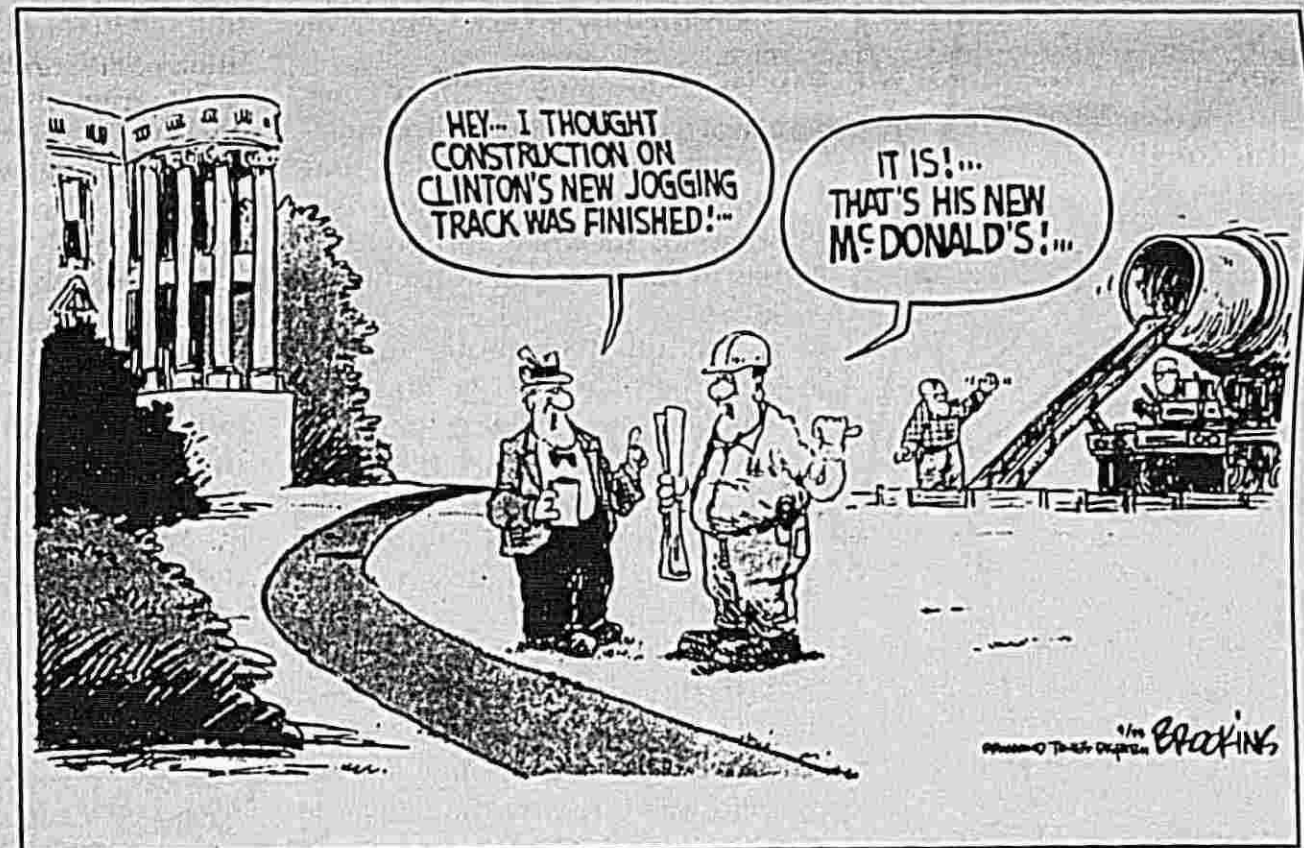

Peterson

Political games—Two of Lake Zurich's trustees are refusing to meet with a majority bloc at committee meetings until Mayor Deborah A. Vasels is restored to her rightful position as chairwoman of the committee of the whole. Karen Demos-Rosenthal said she and Gary Winchester have contacted a legal authority regarding the removal of Vasels from the committee. Both Vasels and Demos-Rosenthal have said the move is politically motivated. Demos-Rosenthal even has her own name for the newly created committee of trustees — committee of the Charlie — referring to its chairman, Trustee Charles Crawford.

Cooler heads prevail: There may be some lighter moments even in the hottest of village board meetings. Gurnee Trustee Mark Ratfelders and resident Tom Chamberlain exchanged views on the merits of Chamberlain's Freedom of Information Act and other requests for more open government. Chamberlain suggested putting village board meetings on cable TV. "I was on the ask the mayor program and no one called in," Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton said. Chamberlain's FOIA requests went public when he sought information about the village's feasibility study for a convention center. The village is paying Friendlander Communications of Bannockburn $3,000.

In defense of Gurnee, the village's press packet is right up there with Vernon Hills' in its content. Grayslake went to a summary of agenda items a few years ago. Other towns such as Park City just list committee reports while Wadsworth's is also a fairly "open" agenda with an occasional listing of an ordinance.

like cancer. And the exposure is not only to the skin, but we all know that occasionally water is accidentally swallowed. I have a hard time believing that these chemicals are necessary.

Another issue is the balance of the ecosystem. We are destroying the plants which are weeds by our definition only. They are necessary for filtration of the water and anchoring the lake bottom. They also help the fish by putting necessary oxygen into the water and protecting the smaller fish, giving them the essential chance to grow. There is no need to kill the plants when there are other techniques to keep them from being a nuisance to us. A harvester has been suggested in the past, but was not considered because of the cost. Wake up! Is it better to turn the lake into a chemical wasteland than to spend money to do it the right way?

Rte. 53 expands ozone pool
Editor:

Today I hear yet another ozone advisory, and think of what the air would be like should Rte. 53 occur.

Mundelein residents who feel they will not be impacted by Rte. 53 because they do not reside in Cambridge, Tullamore, or Town and Country should take note. The polluted air generated by Rte. 53 will not stay in a nicely-contained package within the six-foot landscape berms. Even if your children do not attend Mechanics Grove School, all Mundelein area schools are close enough to Rte. 53 to suffer from the dangerous emissions generated by it.

Think about the volume of traffic, and resultant emissions, that will be brought through the village from neighboring communities in order to get on and off the tollway. The east/west arterials (including Rte. 176, Hawley, Rtes. 60/83, as well as the residential short-cuts we all use) will necessarily see a substantial increase in use.

The true impact zone of this tollway includes virtually the entire village, not just those residing along the corridor. Rte. 53 is in every Mundelein resident's backyard. Please make the time and effort to educate yourselves about all facets of this issue, not simply how it will affect your daily commute.

Deb Giles

Trustees won't back down
Editor:

Members of the village board, specifically the newly elected trustees, are honoring their campaign promise of open government.

First let us assure that we intend to carry on the business of the village in public meetings and hearings, and listening to residents both in the meetings and in the neighborhoods prior to voting on any issue. As trustees, we believe that we have an obligation to vote on issues in the best interest of all the residents and not just the handful that may attend a village meeting.

We believe that the residents spoke in the April election and indicated that they did not want the status quo to continue in the village. We have proposed changes that we believe will allow each trustee to have a voice on every issue that comes to the committee level. We certainly welcome and respect any comments that Mayor Vasels might have on all issues and encourage her participation, as well as that of all residents on the issues. At this time we believe that our proposed changes will benefit the village and that the residents will see more responsive government immediately.

Mayor Vasels, as has always been the case, will continue to have the right to lead this village and cast her vote, when necessary, each time the board convenes.

We believe that our proposed changes deserve the opportunity to be set in motion, as they are a product of open debate. Only after the village government operates in this manner for a sustained period of time can the system be judged as a success of failure. Just four short years ago, the village went through changes that were very controversial but were later accepted.

Camp helps open the world to kids with disabilities

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

People sometimes wonder where there money goes when they contribute to the Jerry Lewis Telethon. There is no better example than at a special week-long summer camp.

People with muscular dystrophy rarely get the chance to do what other children do. For one week, the world is opened to them as they get a chance to experience many activities that most of us take for granted.

Hastings YMCA lets the Muscular Dystrophy Association rent out the camp for one week and campers aged 6-21 afflicted with the disease from throughout the Chicagoland area attend. The camp is an outlet for the youth who attend.

"I just love to play football and hockey," said camper Amee Reasoner. This is her fourth year at the camp.

"I like the activities and the people. I

'I can do almost anything that other people can and maybe even more.'

Amee Reasoner

get to meet new friends," Reasoner said.

Each year there are at least 60 people who attend the camp, said Bridget Carey, program director. Carey said there are about 180 people who help make the camp possible.

Each child has an attendant who assists them to do almost any activity the camp offers. Among them are swimming, hockey, football, and horseback riding.

Volunteer Nicole Whalen said it's a joy for her to help the campers participate in the fun. "They can do almost anything."

Whalen has also been a volunteer for four years. She said the experience is simply just plain fun.

"We have a lot of fun. I have traveled and been to a lot of places, but nothing compares to this week," Whalen said.

Philip Nordgren, regional coordinator, said the counselors come back year and year. He said one volunteer flies in from California just to take part in the camp. He emphasized what a treat it is for both the children and their parents.

"The kids just can't go to pool. For one week or two weeks a year they get to do the impossible. Their parents also get a week off for themselves," Nordgren said.

Tom Becker from ERA Realty said the camp puts the whole disease in perspective. "It's nice to come and see what the money is used for. It just makes you want to try harder and raise more money."

Nordgren said the camp helps build up the self esteem children lose because of people who don't understand their disease. Reasoner closed with a thought she would like to share with everyone.

"I can do almost anything that other people can and maybe even more," Reasoner said.

Lasers, fireworks to pierce July Fourth evening sky

Vernon Hills
first Lake County village to sponsor
laser show

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Three-D images, music and the brightest lasers in the world combined with a little imagination will pierce the evening sky July Fourth as the Village of Vernon Hills showcases its dual laser light show extravaganza and fireworks display.

It will be the first of its kind sponsored by a Lake County village.

A laser show at Great Lakes Naval Training Center accompanies its fireworks display, but rumor has it that nothing will compare to what Vernon Hills has in store for its Fourth of July guests.

A full 28-minute, music-choreographed, laser and fireworks show with full-color graphics projected on a large 40x40 screen is in the works at Little Bear Lake in New Century Park, which is located just west of Hawthorn Center.

"We'll be using the brightest lasers in the world to produce a 3-D image that will pierce the night sky," boasted Ray Woods, who was hired by the village to showcase the laser show. Based in Oak Creek, Wis., Laser Artistry puts on laser shows across the Midwest.

Lasers will dance in the sky to the sound of eight different songs being proposed. Three-dimensional images of animals, people, flags, the United States and the world will be pitched against a screen. Uncle Sam might even make a special appearance.

"It's a lot more work than the standard fireworks display," said Dan Miller, vice president of Mad Bomber Fireworks. "It has to be choreographed to the lasers. They're going to be reacting to the fireworks. It's going to be an interesting concept."

He added, "You've got three different elements. Just fireworks and music is hard enough. Now, you have another facet. It's going to be quite a production. It's a new twist, but I can guarantee the fireworks will be magnificent."

Mad Bomber Fireworks, based in Crown Pointe, Ind., has been sponsoring the fireworks show in Vernon Hills since the village introduced the county's first New Year's Eve fireworks display three years ago.

Miller said the Vernon Hills location itself makes for an ideal location to launch fireworks. On the Fourth, the fireworks reflect off Little Bear Lake, and on New Year's Eve, the fireworks reflect off the ice.

"It's probably the most beautiful site to do a fireworks display that I ever experienced," said Miller, who sponsors more than 200 fireworks shows a year.

In keeping with the theme "Vernon Hills—A Village with Imagination," Fourth of July Committee Chairperson Shirley Pietrowiak did not want to reveal too much as she wants spectators to let their imaginations wander to the very end of the half-hour show.

"Sometimes you'll see graphics and lasers; sometimes you'll see lasers and fireworks; and sometimes you'll just see fireworks," Pietrowiak said.

But she promises it will dazzle more than the typical fireworks show with clusters of bombs being launched every so often. The finale itself is planned to last at least five minutes with lasers, fireworks and song.

Laser Artistry, based in Oak Creek, Wis., combines the newest and latest technology available paired with its own engineered aerial beam system, sound system and computer programs. It has won seven awards in international competition.

"Our company is very proud about being involved in this ground-breaking event," Woods said. "The entertainment value is second to none. It's the newest, latest technology available."

In fact, the laser spectacular can be seen from up to five miles away, and the Federal Aviation Administration had to be forewarned in order to be prepared to redirect airplanes which might be flying overhead during the time of the show.

For a sneak preview, Woods said his crews will be testing the equipment after dark July 3.

Pietrowiak stressed the show will offer music, graphics and excitement that will cater to all age groups. She warned that the best place to view and absorb the entire show will be along the east side of Lakeview Parkway. Depending on the crowds, she said Lakeview may be temporarily closed. Between 10,000 to 15,000 people from the region are expected to attend the event.

To help offset the costs of the show, Pietrowiak noted the Fourth of July Committee will be seeking corporate sponsorship for the laser show up until the day of the event. Sponsors will be allowed to advertise along Little Bear Lake island, posters will be displayed throughout town and a hospitality tent will be available. Lakeland Newspapers, Inc. is a co-sponsor of the laser show.

The awaited show is set to begin at 9 p.m.

"You're going to see everything," Pietrowiak said. "It's going to be a spectacular show, especially for children. It will be mesmerizing."

Kids FARE

Cuneo presents children's art fair

The fourth annual Children's Arts Fair at the Cuneo Museum and Gardens will be held Sunday, July 9 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. The estates grounds, located at 1350 N. Milwaukee Ave. in Vernon Hills, will be filled with over 30 hands-on art activities for children of all ages.

Also featured will be artist demonstrations, as well as music, dance and children's theater performances. Fifteen family-related community organizations and institutions will be represented at the fair, and provide information about their programs and services, as well as their own art activities.

Admission of $2 for children and $4 for adults covers all art materials, performances and parking. Lunch and snacks will be available.

This popular event is held rain or shine. For more information call 362-3054.

Children's theatre

Three children's plays will come alive at the College of Lake County as the student activities office presents summer children's theater. The series will open July 13 with "Three Billy Goats Gruff," followed by "The Frog Prince" on July 27 and "The Center Ring" on Aug. 10.

All performances will be held at 1 and 7 p.m. in the CLC auditorium, 19351 W. Washington St., Grayslake. The program is co-sponsored by the Waukegan park district's Bowen Park Theatre Co.

Tickets are $2 for each performance. Advance ticket purchase is recommended as the series usually sells out. For tickets, call the box office at 223-6601, ext. 2300 or stop in room C-101.

Magic School Bus

The Chicago Children's Museum (CCM) will unveil its newest exhibit, The Magic School

Bus inside the Earth through Sept. 1. Based on the Scholastic best-selling book series and PBS-TV series "The Magic School Bus," this exhibit invites museum visitors to take a unique "field trip" to learn about the mysteries of rocks.

The Magic School Bus Inside The Earth provides kids with an opportunity to dig and explore the surface of the earth's crust, put together strata puzzles, try their hand at excavation, learn about rock collecting and fossil rubbing, journey through a volcano and explore the different ways we use rocks in art, buildings, jewelry and more.

The Chicago Children's Museum is located at North Pier Chicago, 435 East Illinois Street, No. 370, Chicago.

WCKG's Patti Haze brings 'Diner' to Lake County

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Classic rock listeners would recognize her raspy, radio voice in a flash.

Patti Haze, WCKG's radio personality for the station's Rock 'N' Roll Diner on the Road, brought her lunchtime radio show to Crossroads Bar and Grill in Evanston.

Whether she is playing tunes from the Rolling Stones, The Who, The Doors, or other classic rock groups, the Patti Haze voice has been a classic in its own right on rock radio for the last 20 years.

Haze returned to hosting the Diner in March as she brings live broadcasts to Chicagoland bars or places of interest.

"I love it," Haze said between sets at Crossroads. "You're out of the office. You meet people. It's a blast."

Between songs, Haze is busy taking requests, sharing chicken wings with customers and doing commercial plugs. She also assists with any technical help.

"I've been doing radio 20 years," said Haze, who envisions herself doing rock radio for 20 more years.

"It's what I'm good at. Whether I change my format, I don't know."

Haze may live and breathe classic rock on WCKG, but she said she enjoys all music from jazz and country to the latest in alternative.

"I like so much music. I just like it all," Haze said.

She said time will tell whether the latest wave in alternative music will survive the test of time like many classic rock artists have such as Eric Clapton, Neil Young and Joe Walsh.

"You get some really marginal bands and you get some really good ones," said Haze, who noted the next five years will determine who makes it from the Seattle scene. She likes the future of REM, Chicago's Liz Phair and U2.

"We'll see who'll be the next Rolling Stones," Haze said "It'll be interesting."

But, according to Haze, those who survive have to have three ingredients: "Good songs. Great concerts. Longevity."

And chances are whoever survives Patti Haze will be playing their CDs on the radio.

Trip Cancellation Insurance Do I Need It?

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Tomorrow's the day the family leaves for the dream cruise everyone's been planning on for so long. Little Johnny hasn't been feeling well, so you figure a quick trip to the doctor before the trip is a good precaution.

Then you get the news. Johnny's got the measles! Looks like the vacation is going to be put on hold for awhile. But, surely you're not going to lose all the money you paid for the cruise.

If you didn't purchase trip-cancellation insurance, it's quite likely you will. Now, let's say little Johnny's measles didn't show up until the third day of the cruise, about the time you're due to dock in Aruba. A one-way air ticket back could cost over $600. Again, if you had purchased trip-cancellation insurance, you probably would be reimbursed for the cost of getting the family home and maybe even the cost of the unused portion of the cruise.

Have you ever thought about what would happen if, let's say you get to the airport, the fog rolls in and the "Flight Delayed" messages start flashing on the departure boards. Eight hours later, your plane leaves the gate. Problem is your ship is also leaving the port in Miami. What now?

Again, most trip-cancellation policies will pay for a hotel room that night and a plane ticket to meet your ship at the next port.

Keep in mind all trip-cancellation insurance policies are not alike. Far from it. Most will cover cancellations for illness of travelers as well as illnesses or the death of a family members. Also covered are unforeseen events such as jury duty, a flat on the way to the airport, a house fire, or an airline strike. Keep in mind though, most do not cover "pre-existing" conditions. For example, if you have a heart condition, and you have to cancel your trip because of complications of that illness, most policies are not going to pay.

There are some "cancel for any reason" plans, but they are much more costly than $5 to $7 per $100 of coverage of the standard plans.

When purchasing trip-cancellation insurance, insist that your travel agent explain what is, and what is not covered. If the insurance offered directly through the cruise line or tour operator is not to your liking, ask to see another plan. Most travel agencies work with at least a couple of independent insurers offering a variety of policies.

The new musical at the Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre, "Heartbeats," is the best melodious offering to hit that stage since the days of "Baby," "Chess," and "Matador." It bubbles and boils over as many kind of beats go on.

We all love the standard classic musicals, like Marriott's previous production of "Hello Dolly," but nothing can top the first time one hears extremely good new music, delivered by a bevy of marvelous voices. Such is the case with the talented cast of this Amanda ("The Rose") Mc Broom show.

The story, not a really important one, becomes so as this powerhouse of terpsichorean delights and velvet throats work hard to deliver the best from the opening to the finale.

The plot deals with the 40th birthday of Annie, played incandescently by one of the Midwest's best, Shannon Cochran. Have she and her husband and childhood sweetheart Steve, who are celebrating their 20th wedding anniversary along with the black birthday, lost the wonderment of love?

Whenever Cochran hits the boards, she takes command, but never more so than as the disillusioned middle-aged Annie. She's not only beautiful but her Annie covers Marriott's stage with winsome grace as she becomes someone we either all know, or else self-identify with.

Brian Robert Mani is an adequate and likable Steve, with his singing voice outranking his dramatic emoting.

Bernie Yvon, who recently stole the "Singing in the Rain" production at Candlelight with his version of Gene Kelly's famous rain dance, lets his voice outshine his feet in his role of "the young Steve." He and Jessica Boevers (young Annie) are not only the cutest couple around, but obviously one of Chicagoland's ablest.

Two ensemble members that also have a few scene stealing moments are Joan Krause, who plays Annie's best friend from teen days to now, and Kelli Cramer, who goes all the way as the librarian and Annie's wayward daughter.

Krause gets way down as she leads "Tell Me What You Want" with her best 60s-70s attitude.

Cramer shows a great comedy streak as the phone calling daughter and the "not so prim" librarian. She's a belter with a mean voice that could probably be heard without the benefit of Alexander Graham Bell's little invention.

Rob Rahn and Aaron Thielen, the remaining ensemble members keep the show rolling with Thielen having his best moments as Annie's son.

Outstanding numbers include the first act finale done by the entire ensemble, "Anyone Can Do the Heartbreak," and Cochran, Cramer and Krause come up with a big one in the bluer than blue "I Like To Look," as do their male counterparts in "Hurt Somebody Blues."

"Heartbeats" is a love and talent pump not to be missed. It runs at Marriott through Aug. 20.

—LIFE'S A BEAR—

DONNA ABEAR

Off to the orphan village!

Our 19-month-old daughter has arrived early, kicking, screaming and biting, at what is usually called the "Terrible Two's." This is a period in a child's life when, if they had been born behaving in this manner, most people would have rushed back to the hospital claiming that their baby had been switched at birth with a troll.

Actually, I think the "omnipotent stage" might be a better description, considering the meaning of the word omnipotent: all-powerful, godlike, supreme, etc. This pretty much describes Samantha's view of her place in the world at the moment.

Yes, her highness, "Sammie the Supreme," rules with a sticky fist and lungs that can shatter glass. Perched atop her highchair throne, she summons her subjects to do her bidding.

"Deet deet," says Sammie, holding both arms out and wiggling her hands.

"What do you want, honey?" I coo, in my sweetest Mommy voice.

"Deet deet! Deet deet!"

"Deet deet. Hmmm. You want a cookie?"

"DEET DEET!! DEET DEET! AIEEEEEEEEEEE!"

"OK, OK! I'll get you a cookie."

Quickly I grab a cookie from the jar and lay it on the tray before Sammie the Supreme. She takes the cookie and flings it across the room, beaming the cat. "AIEEEEEEEEEEE!"

OK. So "deet deet" does not mean cookie. I know what you're thinking. You're thinking that by now, as a veteran mother of four, I should be used to short people with a Napoleonic complex. But, foolish optimist that I am, I actually believed that a little girl would be ... well, different. And she is, yet not in the way that I imagined.

I expected this sweet little thing with long soft hair would sit quietly and play with her dolls while I brushed her hair, adorning it with bows and ribbons. I expected her to be shy and demure with a high-pitched, yet soft, giggle and a willingness to please. In other words, I expected a little doll.

Well, she does have long, soft hair, but the moment you add a bow or ribbon, she quickly rips it from her hair and throws it into anything handy, like the toilet. And Sammie's version of "shy and demure" is to climb right up onto any visitor's lap, bouncing up and down and treating them to an occasional football "head butt" while giggling like the villain in "Dirty Harry."

Of course, to be fair, I didn't even like dolls when I was a little girl. I liked trolls. You know, the ones with the hair that stands straight up and little chubby bodies accented by a Buddha belly? So, maybe subconsciously I've been sending out signals—"Be like a troll." "Be like a troll." (I think it's working.)

Still, I can take some comfort in the fact that she will grow out of this stage. In the meantime, my husband and I learned a lesson from our six-year-old. On a recent stressful evening when Sammie had been behaving like the lawyers at the O.J. Simpson trial, my husband finally lost his cool. "What is with her? She's driving me crazy!"

"What do you want me to do about it?" I snapped back. "Send her to the ORPHANAGE?"

Of course, I wasn't serious, but six-year-old Brandon was sure that I was. "You better NOT send Sammie to the ORPHAN VILLAGE! If you do, then I'M GOING WITH HER!"

To emphasize his solidarity with his sister, he hurried over to her and put his arms out for a hug. She looked at him sweetly. "Deet deet?"

Brandon nodded his head, "Yes."

She smiled and smacked his forehead with hers.

NOW we know what "deet deet" means.

Movie Pick

Batman, Robin have flown higher

"Batman Forever" must be the planned blockbuster of the summer. It's gotten plenty of pre-pub, the usual fast-food link-up, and most significantly, was playing on two of the five screens at the local cinema. But don't bet that horse yet.

To be sure, two days after it opened, the theater was packed, mostly with young children way under the PG-13 guideline. Except for some violence—which produced little blood and no dismemberment—it's designed to be a film for young 'uns. It will be interesting to see if said young 'uns stay enchanted.

The first shortfall is Val Kilmer as millionaire Bruce Wayne/Batman. When seen as the rubber-caped hero, he passes, but his Wayne is wooden and unemotional. Michael Keaton was aloof, but human in the role. Keaton made audiences care about him as Bruce Wayne; Kilmer didn't evoke the same reaction, but young viewers may not care.

Other stars had much more substance. Nicole Kidman is a toothsome, seductive love interest for Wayne/Batman as Dr. Chase Meridian. Chris O'Donnell also turned in an adequate performance as ward-turned-partner Dick "Robin" Grayson. As much as his contribution to the movie has been hyped, though, he wasn't much a part of it.

And the villains—oy, the villains. Two-Face (Tommy Lee Jones) was good as the primary Bat-dude opponent, but the movie was absolutely stolen (no surprise) by third-billed Jim Carrey as The Riddler. Frank Gorshin, God rest his soul, would have been proud of the performance Carrey turned in as the questioning nemesis.

Though by and large a crafty production by Tim Burton and Peter MacGregor-Scott, "Batman Forever" had trouble telling its story. The movie is loud, and the sets lavish, but the bits of humor, intrigue, and innuendo got lost in a muddy mix of action and special effects.

Burton must have backed off somewhat on his usual style, because this film isn't nearly as dark as the first two were.

Had the production team not tired to make the whole movie go over the top, they would have a great film. This one is only good. The soundtrack is the usual orchestration of super-hero theme. It gets more listenable during the credit roll, with performances by Seal and Bono.

See it at matinee prices—it's not going to have nearly the impact on video. "Batman Forever" gets 3.5 out of five stars.—by JEFFREY P. BROWN

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Bank, Jewel form alliance

CHICAGO—Bank of America Illinois, Jewel Food Stores and Osco Drug have announced plans for BofA to install automated teller machines (ATMs) in 172 Jewel-Osco Stores throughout Chicagoland and in other cities where Jewel-Osco has a presence in the Midwest.

In-store financial service centers will also be set up in three Jewel-Osco stores as part of a pilot program to study the feasibility of BofA providing additional banking services in Chicagoland through alternative delivery systems.

Office skill crisis predicted

LIBERTYVILLE—One of the biggest problems facing individuals and businesses in Libertyville

and across the country is the growing skills gap. Jobs are going unfilled due to the lack of computer skills required in today's workplace.

Kelly Services executives have announced the company will have spent $20 million during the past four years to develop and deploy PinPoint, all of Kelly's 1,000 North American offices by September. The CD-ROM technology teaches the latest Microsoft(r) Office and Lotus(r) SmartSuite Windows software programs.

Jury finds in favor of Abbott

ABBOTT PARK—A Los Angeles Federal Court jury found in favor of Abbott Laboratories and the American Academy of Pediatrics in the anti-trust case brought by Nestle Food Co. relating to the marketing of infant formula. Charles brought by Nestle in May 1993 alleged Abbott conspired with other infant formula manufacturers and the American Academy of Pediatrics to prevent Nestle's entry into the U.S. infant formula market. Nestle contended that the industry's alleged practice of not engaging in direct consumer advertising was a conspiracy designed to keep competitors out of the U.S. market.

Vision/Barco make agreement

VERNON HILLS—The Vision Group, a national association of regional distributors specializing in computer graphics technologies has announced an agreement to distribute 20- to 21-inch color display systems from Barco, Inc., a leading vendor of pre-press systems for the advertising and packaging industries. The Vision Group will distribute these products to its established national network of authorized VARs (value-added resellers), and will support sales by providing extensive marketing and technical services.

Mundelein's Fisher named top entrepreneur

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

Capping a skyrocketing rise to prominence in the cellular antenna industry, Mundelein resident Roger Fisher has been named an Ernst & Young 1995 Entrepreneur of the Year. The prestigious award is given to business people in Chicagoland and Northwest Indiana in only eight categories each year.

Fisher, president of The Antenna Company in Itasca, was honored as Wholesale/Retail Entrepreneur of the Year. His company's meteoric rise to success can be attributed to market knowledge and excellent timing.

When his company, Nova Cellular, was purchased by Nationwide in 1987, the buyer was not interested in the antenna segment of the business. Fisher saw a lack of competition in the market and founded The Antenna Company. Today, his firm supplies 20 of the world's top 22 providers of cellular technology, including Ameritech and Cellular

One in the Chicago area.

Fisher credits his success to always putting the customer first and providing a quality product. Some of his company's technological advances seem simple. When people experience cellular problems it is often due to lack of a exterior antenna on the car. With hand held phones inside the car, 85 percent of the cellular reception is shielded by the vehicle. Also, due to polarity, antennas should be held completely vertical to get maximum reception, not at a 45 degree angle like most phones are held. One of the features Fisher's company offers is an adapter that links hand held phones to an exterior glass-mount antenna for superior reception.

The concept is working. Due to clarity, people often tell Fisher they can't believe he is calling from a car phone. His company now sells its products to more than 35 countries worldwide. Fisher will now be eligible for national competition, the winners to be determined in November.

HomeGoods makes entry into Chicago area

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor In Chief

The Village of Vernon Hills already has more than a 29 percent share of the retail market in Lake County. With proven demographics and a growing populous base, it is easy to see why the county mega retail center keeps growing.

HomeGoods, Inc. chose Vernon Hills as one of four Metropolitan Chicago areas to open stores this spring, because of those proven dynamics.

"The demographics were right for our use," said Debbie Katz Weisberg of Leary & Company, Inc., public relations who handles the HomeGoods account. "The area offers a large base of women 20-55 years of age with middle to upper-income levels who have been proven to consistently look for value."

HomeGoods offers more than 300,000 in-stock, name brand home fashions and furnishings at prices 25 to 60 percent less than department and specialty store merchandise.

"We are excited to now expand the apparel off-price concept to home fashions with HomeGoods stores in Chicago," said Ben Cammarata, President and CEO of The TJX Companies.

HomeGoods also brings to the village a sense of community. "We try to get involved in community service in each of our locations," Weisberg said. "We strive to employ local people and to provide a pathway to management for them." HomeGoods is a sponsor for the 1995 Vernon Hills Day festival and also participates in the CARE products promotions which benefit charity.

Store Manger Richard Warfield came to HomeGoods from another Vernon Hills retail establishment.

"Customer service is our number one priority," Warfield said. "There is a higher demand and a strong commitment to customer service in Vernon Hills. People expect it."

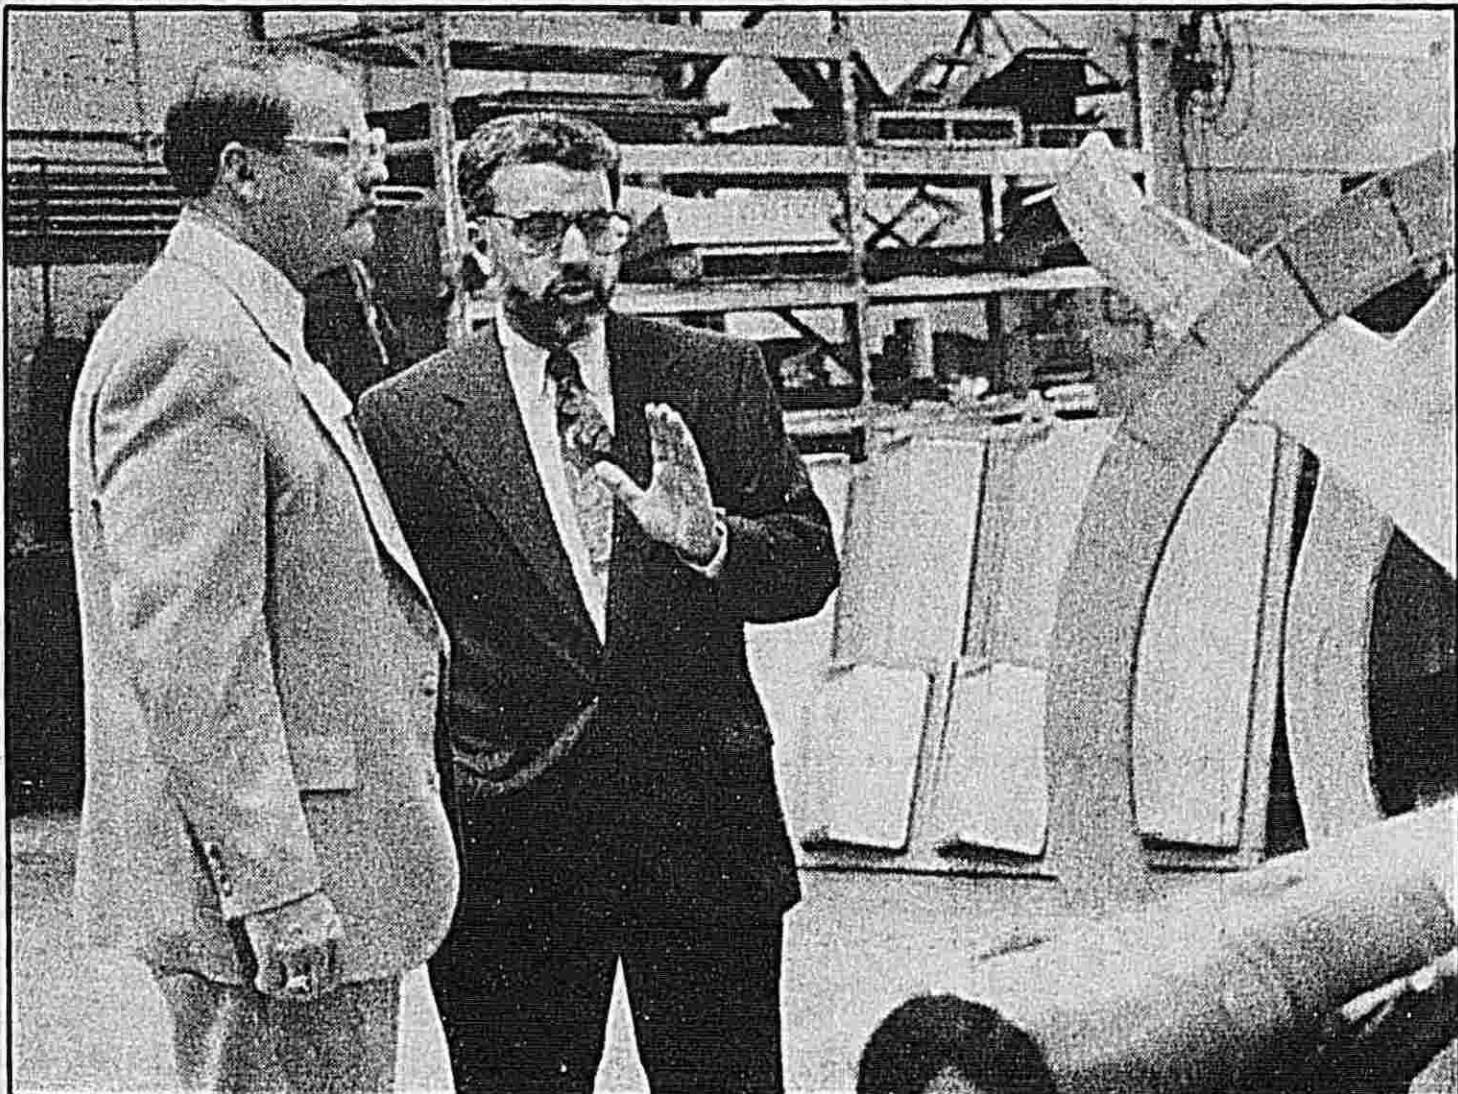

HomeGoods consists of eight separate departments including: bedroom, bathroom, the home, kitchen, dining room, storage closet accent pieces, the utility room and seasonal items.

"In each store we try to find items that are popular and unique to buyers in the region," Wiesenberg said. "If you go into a HomeGoods in Massachusetts, you will likely find some different merchandise which is not stocked in a Chicagoland store."

HomeGoods is located in the Rivertree Court Shopping Center at the southeast corner of Routes 21 and 60.

Seminar scheduled to make Internet understandable

What is the Internet? How can I apply it to my life? How can it help my business?

These questions and many more will be answered at a July 12 seminar sponsored by Lake County Internet provider Lakeland netDIRECT. "Getting the Most out of the Internet" will feature two industry experts putting technological language of the Internet and electronic mail into layman's terms. The seminar is designed to be informative for both the private and the business sector.

Speaker Karl Vollbrecht is the president of Milwaukee-based Alpha.net. He has been in the Unix programming environment for 15 years and has been president of a Milwaukee Unix group for the past three years. He will talk on the history of the Internet.

Speaker Carl Blake is the president of core.net, inc., working deeply with Macintosh computers for the past 11 years. He consults with many Fortune 500 companies and was responsible for bringing Abbott Laboratories' Macintosh network into the 1990s. He will talk more specifically about applications for the Internet.

The seminar will be held at the Country Squire Restaurant in Grayslake from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Continental breakfast and late registration begins at 8:15 a.m. Attendees will be treated to a buffet luncheon at noon. Pre-registration by July 7 is $35. Late registration is $45. For more information call 223-8199. —by NEAL TUCKER

MURPHY ON REAL ESTATE

Terri Murphy

Is it repairing or remodeling?

The buyer of today is, for the most part, looking for the highest mortgage possible to enjoy the mortgage interest deduction write off. This limits the amount of liquid money the buyer will have to do improvements to a property once it has been purchased.

Often the homeowner is not aware of the subtle differences between a repair and an actual remodeling effort.

This becomes apparent after a home inspection has been completed, and certain items need to be corrected prior to the closing.

A good example is that screen door that the dog has tried to run through a few times. Although it is not exactly broken, it would substantially improve the first impression and would not really be considered a "remodeling" effort, but rather a repair.

There are other items that are more challenging and fall in a little closer to the repair/remodeling status. A broken vacuum seal on a patio door does serve the function of keeping out inclement weather, however, a clouded window shows poorly if it is clouded. This would cost the buyer more than a few dollars to replace.

There are certain things about a home the buyer just expects, like a functioning heating and electrical system, as well as a roof that doesn't leak and doors that open and close properly.

As the homeowner, we are often aware of that window by the pantry that sticks, and really haven't made an issue of it.

However, the new buyer will expect all the systems in the house to be in working order. Changing paint to neutral shades is also sometimes thought of as more of a repair than a remodeling job just because so often marks made by moving and small children do not come off, and a new paint job will make it look clean and well kept.

When addressing issues of repair, don't hesitate to fix things very properly to avoid lawsuits later for shoddy work, especially those that get "concealed." For instance, dry rot that is patched poorly may cause problems later than can lead to lawsuits.

Should you choose to do some remodeling, remember to keep things neutral to appear to a larger group of potential buyers. The more customized the decorating, the smaller the percentage of buyers looking will appreciate your unique taste. Consider neutralizing customized efforts like sponge painting, stencils, borders and bright colors for a broader appeal to home buyers.

Landscape design made easy with plan listings

As a homeowner, moving into an area of landscape design may seem a bit overwhelming. However, if you break it down into sections, concepts can become easier to understand. List a few of the current problems in your front yard.

Are they visual, or are they functional? How can these problems be minimized or even eliminated? Ask yourself these same questions for your backyard. Also, since most of our outdoor activity does exist in the backyard list your activities. For example—barbecuing, relaxing, reading, entertaining, sunbathing, gardening. Also list the type of sports you may want to do in your backyard, such as volleyball, badminton, swimming, basketball, Frisbee, etc.

List all of the positive elements and qualities of your front yard and backyard. Try to decide how you think your site should look—formal, informal, open, wooded, etc. Try and list types of materials (hardscape) you like most for pavements, fences walls, etc.

The more you can give a landscape designer/architect the closer he/she can achieve the landscape you've always dreamed or thought about.

Finally, feel free to list your favorite plants or if you don't know many plants, list colors, textures, or show pictures of a desired effect. And to be a realist, identify a budget you would be willing to spend annually on your site for the next three to five years.

All your ideas can then be put together in a landscape concept, by a landscape designer/architect and will bring years of enjoyment to you and your family and friends.—by MIKE GRECO, landscape architect, owner of Mill Creek Nursery, Wadsworth

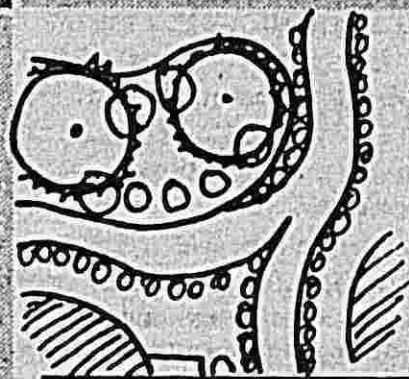

Tips to take the bite out of fleas

Fifty percent of all American households have either a dog or cat as a pet, which can bring flea problems into a house. Here are some tips for dealing with the pests:

- Inspect your home, paying special attention to the pet's resting area, and carpeted areas.

- Vacuum carpeting, baseboards, furniture and pet's bedding often. Seal the vacuum bag and dispose of it at once.

- Have your pet treated by a veterinarian as often as needed. While the pet is removed from the house, wash the pet's bedding and treat infected areas, inside and out.

LANDSCAPE DESIGN

Before you contact a landscape contractor, have us check out your site, so you can bid it out for a better dollar value. Look professional at a reasonable price.

We don't sell plants, but select the right plants for your site and conditions, and ones which will enhance your property.

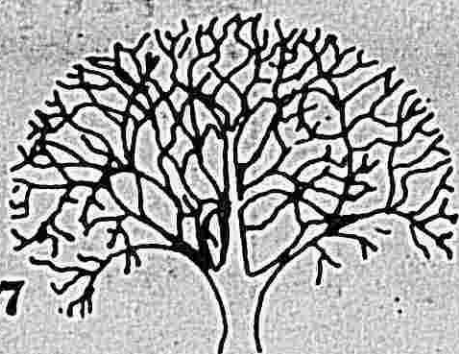

Whether planning for the future or installing this season, you can obtain a scale drawing that incorporates your landscape needs. Your plan can be designed for a 1 to 5 year installation.

Plenty of activities set for Senior Expo '95 Aug. 8

Registration forms are now available for Senior Expo '95, to be held Tuesday, Aug. 8 at the College of Lake County, Grayslake. The event is co-sponsored by the Lake County Council for Seniors, College of Lake County and Walter I. Fried, Ph.D., M.D.

Chairperson Diana Vickery is pleased with the program for this year. From 8 to 8:45 a.m., rolls and coffee will be available, sponsored by WKRS-AM, County Board Member Bob Neal and Lake County State's Attorney Mike Waller.

After opening ceremonies at 9 a.m., "Duane and Dibblers," sponsored by the Lake County Council for Seniors, will lead a lively sing-along.

The keynote speaker will be Rita Emmett, sponsored by Grand National Bank. Emmett's motivational program is entitled "Are We Having Fun Yet?"

Following Emmett, "City Light" will provide musical entertainment. City Lights, a group of 12 singers, were a big hit at last year's Senior Expo, and are returning by popular demand. City Lights is sponsored by Manpower in Lake and McHenry counties.

Lunchtime entertainment will be Jim May, a storyteller. His topic, "Stories from the Banks of the Nippersink" will feature May's discussion of growing up on a farm in northern Illinois. He is sponsored by State Rep. Robert Churchill.

Luncheon will be served in the Willow Room.

The list of afternoon "breakout sessions" is equally attractive, and seniors may choose to attend an inter-generational program, or two other programs from a list of 11. Many new speakers and programs are featured.

They include: Country/Western Line Dancing with Jan Keller; Environmental Shopping with Barbara Dahl; Grand Technology Tour with CLC's educational technology staff; Inter-Generational Communication with Dr. Tana Durnbaugh and Terry Bardell; "Investing in Today's Environment" with Sandra Shinsky; "Our Changing Legal System" with Judge Raymond McKoski; Things to Do, "Places to Go" with Marge Burda; Tour of Collette of Lake County with Dr. Randolph W. "Dan" Webster; "What You Don't Know Might Help You" with Joyce Palmquist; World War II Naval Battles with Jim O'Brien; Writing in Retirement with Martin Blank; and "You Should Hear What You're Missing" with Linda S. Remensnyder.

The cost of this full day of entertainment and information, including lunch, is $8 per person.

The Senior Expo brochure, including registration form, is available by calling the Lake County Council for Seniors office at 244-1720 to receive a copy by mail.

For further information, call the Lake County Council for Seniors at 244-1720.

Retirees-to-be being wooed by Magnolia State

Florida, you've got competition. After a sleepy past of attracting retirees from across the nation, Mississippi has launched an organized initiative aimed at enticing individuals who are looking for a secure and interesting place to retire. As the first of its kind nationwide, "Hometown Retirement Mississippi" certifies selected cities for their desirability to retirees and markets them accordingly.

"Due to the mobile nature of people today, especially the 65 million aged 50 years and over, more Americans are discovering the advantages of living in a small city," said Bob Tillman, the initiative's director. "Mississippi has many small, all-American cities that boast low living costs (10 percent below the national average) and low crime rates (28 percent below the national average), as well as offer many recreational activities."

While there are economic advantages to the program, more importantly, State officials recognize that retirees offer a wealth of business experience and expertise to the communities.

After meeting certain criteria, 11 cities were chosen as Certified Retirement Communities: Aberdeen, Columbus, Corinth, Hattiesburg, Madison, Meridian, Mississippi Beach, Natchez, Oxford, Piquette and Starkville. The criteria included low cost of living, low crime rate, quality health services, quality housing, cultural and educational opportunities, and recreational offerings.

Several Certified Retirement Communities are steeped in history. Natchez, founded in 1716, is the oldest city on the Mississippi River. Oxford is an arts mecca with a strong literary community. Columbus is the home of America's first public college of for women. And Aberdeen boasts 220 buildings that are on the National Register of Historic Places.

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

GET IT OFF YOUR CHEST (708) 223-8073

Lakeland

Lipservice is a phone-in column presented as a feature of Lakeland Newspapers. Lakeland Newspapers makes no claim to the authenticity of the statements. Lakeland Newspapers does not claim the content or the subject matter as fact, but as the personal opinion of the caller. Lakeland Newspapers reserves the right to edit copy or to refrain from printing a message. Call in at 223-8073 and leave your message 24-hours a day. Although the call is anonymous, please leave your village name.

A nice town

I'd like to comment on Round Lake Beach's new administration and the supermarkets. They're planting trees and bushes on the outside and it's looking beautiful. This town is turning into a nice-looking town. I think the new administration is tops!

What quality?

I live in Antioch and this is directed at the scumballs who snuck into my backyard and stole two pelicans. I hope you're proud of yourself. My little niece put those back there. You guys are real brave, aren't you? It's not bad enough you stole our grill, but now you're after plastic lawn ornaments. I should've stayed in Chicago. So much for your quality of life, Antioch.

Come compete

I'm calling to let everyone know about the at-large Miss and Little Miss pageant. If your town doesn't have a queen pageant, come compete in this pageant. Misses range from 16-21 and Little Misses are 6-8. Several towns such as the Round Lake area, North Chicago, Ingleside, Hainesville, Lake Bluff, Long Grove, Deerfield, and many more, do not have pageants.

Deadline is July 5. For more information, call 223-2204. Hope to see you there!

Please ride quietly

I am a resident of Fox Lake and lately, loud motorcycles with no mufflers have been roaring down Grand Ave. In the middle of the night, waking up my baby. She gets so frightened, she cries for hours. I'm begging you bikers to drive at a cruising speed and to get a quiet muffler.

Lipservice sliding

I'm calling from Antioch and I remember when Lipservice was about 10 pages long. It seems that Lipservice has been so heavily censored that most people realize that it's of no use to leave their opinion. Is this what the First Amendment is all about? Who's the editor, Bill Clinton?

Best is leaving

I'm calling from Round Lake and I'd just like to let the people know that one of the best English teachers in the district, Mrs. Kathleen Prendergast, is being transferred to McGee. I'd like some answers from the school on why.

No fair

This is a protest from an angry veteran, of which there are thousands of us out there. We're angry because the federal government is going to give the golf course at Fort Sheridan to the rich residents of the wealthy North Shore neighborhoods, who already have a large number of local courses.

Gave it a shot

I feel I owe an official good-bye to Round Lake Beach. We moved here five years ago from a more congested community in Lake County. We were told by our Realtor that in five years we wouldn't know the place, that things were being improved. I'll give you the improvements with stores and roads, but the school district has gone down. I don't see living here another five years and waiting for it to improve. We thought our answer may be to move to a neighboring community, but I think they are just experiencing what Round Lake Beach has had to go through. I'm now forced to go back to where we're from originally, so good-bye Round Lake Beach and Lake County. Good luck to the new people, I hope everything works for you. Lakeland and Lipservice, you've been a great help!

Wake up

I think the real estate community or the tax assessors should really wake up. Our house in Antioch has a difference of opinion between them of $70,000!

Be considerate

I'm calling in response to 'Work for home.' Please consider the people that are disabled and can't work. I hope you never need services or help, because one day because of people like you, they won't be there for people who need it.

Control your kids

I'm the fellow who wrote about teaching a lesson to punk kids who want to murder our children. Two people responded and said I was a terrible person. I just meant to say we need to make paraplegics out of these kids until they are grown up, then by that time medical science would figure out a way to help them become responsible people in our society. I'm not going to allow my children to be threatened with murder. If somebody takes hombrage at that, I'm sorry, but you need to control your children.

Work together

First of all, I am not a liberal or conservative. I'm an Independent who takes the choices as they come, on their merits. The Republicans constantly name call, say liberal like it's a dirty word, and as far as the truth goes, 90-percent of all politicians lie. So, quit being a jerk and try working with everybody instead of shooting your mouth off!

Get facts straight

You Republican winners crack me up! If there's a Republican president, it's the Democratic Congress' fault, and vice versa. Why don't you people wake up? As far as Vietnam goes, that was started in the late 1950s, when we sent advisors there. Get your facts straight, jerk!

What a shame

Have you noticed that the growth-happy Lake County Board seems to be converting our forest preserves into parks for developers? I think they probably should call the forest preserves parks for developers. Lindenhurst is an example. They're going to put hundreds of houses there and destroy a bunch of land. Naturally, they're starting to convert the MacDonald Woods Forest Preserve into a park for developers. I think it's a shame and a crime.

Teach the facts

I know there are plenty of religious groups out there who do a little bit of good. But let's face it, everywhere Christians have gone, they brought their ways with them and everybody else's ways were wrong. North America, South America, Central America, the Caribbean, Mexico, Polynesia, everywhere they went, the natives were wrong and they were right. Keep your religion out of the public schools. If you want to teach something, teach the facts and that's it.

Feel the same

Hats off to the person who wrote 'Shame, shame.' I feel the same way. Lakeland should not have printed that message at all.

Edgar's fault

Well, another paper just printed a story about all these millionaire lottery winners getting a free dinner from the state of Illinois. Meanwhile, two hospitals in Waukegan seem to be in some financial despair. I hope this goes somehow to our local politicians...where are you? How come the state can afford a $200 per person dinner that these people all can afford, and here's two hospitals the state says can't pay their bills. It's your fault, Edgar!

Support firemen

The people of the Antioch area should thank the firemen for planning a family event, a Pancake Breakfast, on Sunday, June 25th. Let's support them, because the dances and bars are getting out of hand. I want to thank them for changing their method of fundraising. They're having an open house as well. Let's send them a message and get behind them.

By the way...

To keep religion out of the Constitution was predicated on Jewish-Christian idealism. The American Indian, I wouldn't feel sorry for them. They went to war and they lost.

Ban jet skis

What a farce! The 150-foot no wake area is just that. The larger boats and pontoon boats adhere fairly well to the law, but the jet boats and jet skis do not. We live on the west side of Lake Marie in Antioch, where the depth is just a few feet. So, a steady stream of mud makes the water very dirty. We haven't seen a patrol boat in weeks, and suggest that a closer watch be made in this area on the weekends. The jet boaters should be banned on the Chain, and this would alleviate the problem for the most part. They have no consideration for the people who live on the waterfront.

Welcome to 1995

I'm reading the Grayslake Library's publication. Congratulations to the Board of Trustees in finding out it took them 95 years to welcome the 20th century. Can't wait for the next 100 years. Why is the administrative librarian holding up a $5 million building project for a $250,000 grant? Don't we have our priorities in the wrong place? Is this fiscal management? Come on, library, in 1993 you passed a referendum. When will the library be built, in the 21st century?

Letting off steam

Time to let off a little steam in the heat of summer! Kids, get out of my way when I'm driving down the street. Don't look at me with your "dare to hit me" look in this heat anything's possible. Drivers, the speed limit in my subdivision is 25, not 40, if you need to get someplace in a hurry, use Rollins or Hainesville roads. Also, to you color-blind drivers, the red octagon-shaped thing is called a stop sign. I wish you'd obey it. To you landscape drivers on Alleghany Rd., the speed limit is 55. I know you can't speak the language, but surely you can see vehicles approaching. It's amazing that you slowly pull out, dragging a trailer no less, in front of fast-moving traffic. If there weren't 10 of you parked in the front seat, you could see better.

Walk the path

It's a dirty shame Round Lake Beach residents, that when you take your dog or bicycle down the path, you have to look at gang graffiti on beautiful wooden fences, concrete slabs, white sheds, and garages. Please, mayor and other trustees of the board, take a walk down the bicycle path and please let's clean up Round Lake Beach. That's what you intended to do when we elected you a couple months ago, wasn't it?

Enforce laws

In Lake Zurich, we all pay taxes and there are zoning laws. But some people seem to be exempt from zoning laws, like the people who park on the grass even though it's been reported, and someone who has constant parties in their backyard because they have a pool and sell pools. This isn't fair to the other neighbors. We all pay taxes. These zoning laws should be enforced.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I have been out seeking employment since graduation which was in June. I have a degree in business and have been going to school for what seems to be forever. I took some time off over the summer to kind of unwind. I felt I earned it. In September I started avidly looking for a job with an interview here and there but unfortunately no luck. Now as the holidays are approaching, my folks are on my back that I should be searching harder than I am. I have tried to tell them that nobody is going to hire anyone this close to the holidays. Will you please confirm this? W.G. - Antioch

A: Dear W.G. Sorry I can't help you out there. Certainly it is expected that as the holidays approach, the hiring that companies do may slow down. It does not stop, however. Many companies at this time are seeking temporaries to come in and fill in where needed for year-end data that needs to be compiled, analysis that needs to be done, information in general that needs to get out. I will tell you that with the holidays upon you, there are less people taking the time to search for a job because they are thinking along the same lines as you. Actually, now is the best time to be out there looking. So many companies look to hire on at the end of the year with the knowledge that new hires will come on board after the first of the year. Don't put off until tomorrow what everyone else may be putting off too. Opportunity knocks even during the holiday season.

Q: Dear...Search: I have a question regarding after-interview protocol. How often should a person contact the employer after having interviewed with them? In particular, I interviewed with a company two weeks ago and was supposed to hear from them within three weeks from that time. I sent a thank you note to the interviewer and have followed up with two telephone calls. I was not put through on either one of them. Is there a point in time where I may hurt my chances by appearing too aggressive? R.K. - Gurnee

A: Dear R.K. Thank you notes are a definite must!!! It shows professionalism, respect and appreciation. A telephone call to the interviewer even after the note is sent can be beneficial. If you can get through to that individual, you may find out if therein fact is a possibility of your future with them. Be prepared with what to say before you make the call. Good Luck!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

PET OF THE WEEK

"Pal"

"Pal" is a young, male spaniel/shepherd mix. This adorable mid-size dog has an unusual black coat mottled with warm brown tones, and gentle feathering on his legs, stomach and tail. Full of playful charm and an affectionate nature, our Pal would love to be your special pal. From his endearing sweet face to his ever wagging tail, Pal is a winner. Pal is full of energy and enthusiastically greets everyone who pauses to give him attention. Bright and alert, this is a dog who will play with the bouncy enthusiasm of a puppy, and then cuddle close with a heart full of love when playtime is over. If you are looking for a terrific family pet, please come and play with Pal. He's waited in cage 80 since August of 1994, for someone to play with, and to love.

NAPA

Contemporary styling, stucco exterior, and outstanding floor design make the 2444 square foot Napa a home you can take pride in. Not only is it pleasing to the eye, but the available space is well-allocated, allowing ease of movement throughout.

The graceful columns in front of the large porch impart a regal bearing as your guests step into the vaulted entry. Directly in front of the entry, partitioning the various living areas, is a coat closet with a china hutch on the dining room side, and backed by a fireplace that warms the family room.

To the right, the vaulted living room, with a bank of windows to admit the sunlight and provide a pleasing view, offers a quiet place to sit and talk, or just spend an afternoon with a good book.

Three good-sized bedrooms occupy one side of the home. Each has closet space and lots of windows. This sleeping arrangement would be beneficial to a family with teenagers. Loud music over here won't disturb the rest of the household. In fact, one bedroom could be made into a music room, or perhaps an exercise area. A full bathroom, with twin basins, and a small home office also share the hallway.

The placement of the kitchen is a valuable asset to this plan. Featuring a central cooktop, pantry, double ovens and mixing center, the cook in the house will appreciate the ease with which meals can be prepared and served informally in the adjoining skylit nook, or more formally in the equally proximate dining room. When the weather is good, have breakfast or a barbecue on the back deck.

The luxurious master suite has it all. In addition to a huge sleeping area, it features a spacious walk-in closet, shower, oversized tub, separate basins, and private access to a walled-in deck with spa.

The two-car garage has a shop/storage area with two built-in workbenches, recycling center, and door to the utility room, where you can drop off muddy shoes and soiled clothing before entering the house.

For a study kit of the NAPA (334-160), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Former player Holevas looks forward to guiding Lancers

For the first time in a decade, Dave Beck will not be coaching the men's soccer team at the College of Lake County this fall. The Lancers have turned to one of their first stars to coach the team, Tom Holevas.

"It was an opportunity which came along and I felt it was good for my coaching career to be a head coach," Holevas said.

Holevas is a Libertyville High grad who starred for the Lancers as captain and all-region, for Beck's first team in 1985-86. He later went on to play and be an assistant coach at Marian College in Wisconsin and assisted Beck at CLC for two seasons.

"Knowing Dave will help. We are good friends. The pressure to succeed will come from myself. It is my goal as Dave's to have quality teams," Holevas said.

Holevas credits his coach at Marian College, Craig Peltonen, as having a big influence on him. "He taught me a lot about soccer and his style."

Holevas played sweeper there, not one of the more glorious positions in soccer.

"You are the quarterback of the defense. You have to be vocal, have good vision and know what the opponents' options are,"

Holevas said.

Holevas believes the Lancers can attain the level of top 10 teams such as College of DuPage. CLC has been ranked from 15th to 20th in junior college polls over the last few years.

"Breaking into the top 10 is very realistic," Holevas said. He feels Lake County has much soccer talent at the prep levels.

The Lancers plan two scrimmages - one against Marian College and another against the CLC alumni before the Sept. 5 opener at home against Kishwaukee. Key returning players could be Chris Swanson of Liber-tyville at defense, Jeff Haug of Mundelein at midfield, Shane Kripinski from Warren at midfield and Jason Brooks from Warren at forward.

Holevas knows Swanson best, as he worked with Swanson on the LHS varsity when Swanson was called up the end of his sophomore season.

As for the Skyway Conference, Holevas is anticipating a competitive league. "We will have our work cut out for us. We are not anticipating a cake walk," he said.

And that would not be Holevas' style.

Faust takes win in Long Lake competition

After 20 years of trying, a Dallas orthopedic surgeon won his first sailing title in National Butterfly Single-handed competition at Lake County's Long Lake.

Dr. Bruce Faust won in convincing style, outdueling skippers from states. Declining to mention his age—"just say I'm over 50"—Faust had three firsts and a third in the two-day event hosted by Long Lake Yacht Club.

Nipping at Faust's heels were two of the Midwest's top lady sailors who compete under Long Lake colors, Katie Reese of Long Lake and Paige Cooper of Lincolnshire.

Reese, who just graduated from the Univ. of Missouri and is now preparing for Olympic competition, finished second. Cooper, who is doing advanced degree work at the Univ. of Illinois, finished third. Cooper captured the only race Faust didn't win.

Rounding out open competition winners were Barb Christensen of Powers Lake, Wis., fourth, and Duane Pierson of White Lake, Mich., fifth.

Two first propelled Michelle Sucato of Powers Lake to first place in junior competition. Two seconds helped Josh Rotunda of Spring Lake, Mich., take second. Matt Cassidy of Spring Lake was third.

Jets hopefuls return to youth mini-camp

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

How many youth football campers can boast about learning the latest in blocking and defending techniques from two NFL hopefuls?

Grayslake's Todd Baczek, a Carmel graduate, and Lincolnshire's Matt O'Dwyer, a Stevenson graduate, took time out from studying NFL films and learning the new offense of the New York Jets to share some insights about football with more than 100 Libertyville youth football players age 8 to 13. The summer mini-camp was sponsored by Libertyville High Coach Randy Kucyeski.

Both Baczek and O'Dwyer took their stellar high school careers to play for the Northwestern Wildcats. The former college roommates share rooms again as rookies trying out for the New York Jets.

Kucyeski, also an alum from Northwestern, invited the two offensive linemen to train with the young football stars of tomorrow.

"It's great for these guys to come back," Kucyeski said. "If you enjoy a sport and can enhance somebody's love for a sport, it's special gift. That's what these guys are doing."

Both Baczek and O'Dwyer tower over their young counterparts, but their love of the game is still as fresh as it was when they were 10 years old and idolizing the likes of Walter Payton and Mike Singletary.

"It's a fun game, but it's hard, too," said O'Dwyer, who will be seeking a guard position on New York's offensive line. "You just try to keep it fun at this age."

"Enjoy it," Baczek said simply. "High school could be the last time to play football, so enjoy it." Baczek will be vying for a guard or center spot on the Jets.

Both know what it takes to succeed. They have progressed from high school football, to Big Ten football and now are full-speed ahead with the pros. The two ingredients they have noticed in the pros are the speed and caliber of athlete.

"Speed—everyone is fast," Baczek said. "Everything is full-go, even though you're not wearing pads."

O'Dwyer agreed, "Normally, the big guys on the line are slow, but in the pros they all have quick feet."

Baczek and O'Dwyer will have to be no exception. They'll be asked to guard for quarterback Boomer Esiason, and New York Coach Rich Kotite is introducing more of a power offense, which means more blocking duties from the aspiring linemen.

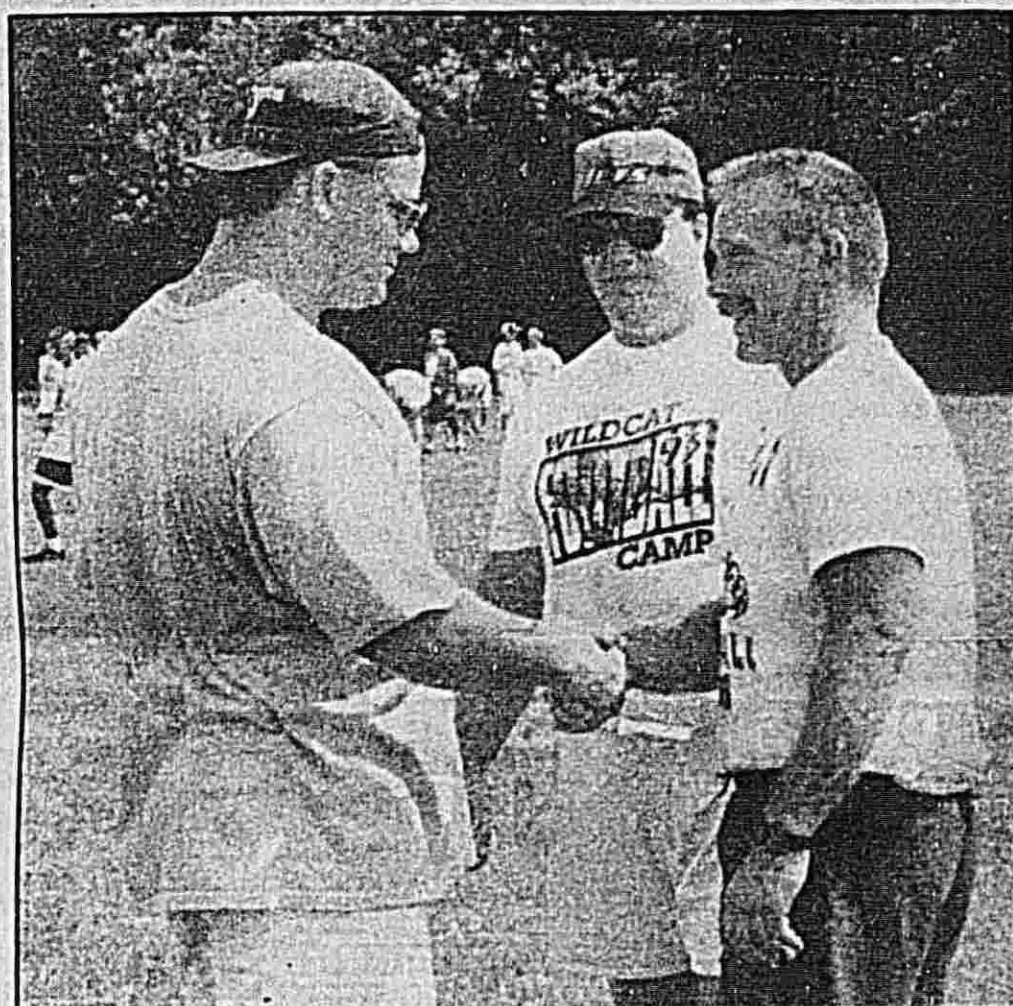

Both have been following a rigorous workout schedule and studying game films and offensive schemes before the Jets open their summer camp July 9.

"If you don't workout and do the running, someone else will and beat you out," Baczek said.

The Jets, however, lost three offensive linemen to free agency, so Baczek and O'Dwyer said they are a little more at ease.

"It's really wide open right now," Baczek said. "They're seeing what we've got."

For these two Lake County-bred stars, being roommates again has made the transition of living in New York easier. See JETS page C22

"New York is very different. It's another world," O'Dwyer admitted. Rooming with Baczek, "makes it a little bit easier."

But football is football.

"It's football," Baczek said. "It's the same thing in a different town."

Both graduated from Northwestern with degrees in organizational studies. They believe they have the background and contacts necessary to succeed after a pro football career.

"It's nice to be able to prepare for something," O'Dwyer said, "but you should always have something to fall back on."

Baczek noted that football could be used as a tool to ascertain other goals.

"If they develop a skill or interest in football, maybe it will help them later in life," Baczek said of the possibilities he wanted to instill to youth football players in camp.

O'Dwyer interjected, "You just have to keep plugging away no matter which way you want to go."

"I got a degree," Baczek said.

LaCASA golf outing offers chance to play with pros for good cause

LaCASA's sexual assault prevention program invites residents to enjoy a memorable round of golf with a pro and support a worthy cause at the same time.

LaCASA's Charity Pro-Am Golf Outing will be held July 10 at Exmoor Country Club in Highland Park.

"We've changed the format to a Pro-Am to give area residents a chance to mingle with golf professionals and perhaps pick up a few tips that can improve their golf game," said Coordinator Ann Subry.

Participating Illinois PGA professionals include Marty Schiene, Joe Lloyd, Dave Prange, Blair Subry, Randy Cochran and many others.

LaCASA is still in need of event and hole/green sponsors. Gold and silver sponsors include a four-some as part of the package. All net proceeds will benefit LaCASA's countywide sexual assault survivor support, counseling, and community education programs.

The field will be limited to 30 teams on a first-come, first-serve basis. Each team will be made up of a golf professional and four amateurs playing together.

"Whether you're a low or high handicapper, this golf event offers a lot of fun and excitement," Subry said. "You'll be supporting a great cause."

A grilled buffet lunch will be served from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., followed by a 12:30 p.m. shotgun start. A dress dinner will follow a the day of golf. For more information, call 244-1187.

Adler Park hosts disc golf open

Libertyville's Adler Park will be the site of the 1995 Lake County Open PDGA Disc Golf Tournament.

Amateurs and professionals from all over the country as well as past world champions will converge at the disc golf course July 1 and July 2.

Similar to regular golf, disc golf is played on a 18-hole course. Players launch Frisbees instead of hitting golf balls, and players try to get their Frisbees in a basket instead of sinking a ball into a cup.

Amateur Day is set for July 1. Two rounds of 18 holes will be played. Registration closes at 8:30 a.m. Trophies will be awarded to amateur, novice, junior and master players.

Professional and Advanced Day is set for July 2. Two rounds of 24 holes will be played. Registration closes at 9:30 a.m. Trophies will be awarded in various categories including open men, open women, open master, open grand master, advanced men and advanced women.

Different contests will also be played including closest to the pin, most improved and stick-it and win.

To register, call the Parks and Recreation Department at 362-7490.

Libertyville Tennis Club to hosts amateur region championships

Libertyville Tennis and Fitness Club has been selected as one of the 16 sites for the central region in the Infinit U.S. Men's Amateur Championships, the largest amateur tournament in the country with approximately 250 clubs and 50,000 players expected to participate.

Libertyville Tennis and Fitness Club will host the local tournament July 7, 8 and 9 with winners advancing to the Hinsdale Racquet Club for the Central Regional Championships July 22 and 23.

"We are very honored to be selected as one of the host sites for the Infinit U.S. Men's Amateur Championships," said Dan Kiernan of the Libertyville Tennis Club.

"We are looking forward to running this unique and exciting event," Kiernan added.

The championships will feature singles and doubles competition in four divisions for local players with a rating between 3.5 and 5.0. Winners of the 16 local tournaments in each region advance to the Regional Championships.

Top players at the regionals will win an all-expense paid trip to Los Angeles to play in the semifinals at UCLA in conjunction with the Infinit Open, Aug. 5-6.

All finalists from Los Angeles win a trip to New York to the U.S. Open to compete in the Amateur Championships on Sunday, Aug. 27.

A portion of all entry fees from local club tournaments goes to the Safe Passage Foundation, a not-for-profit organization founded by the late Arthur Ashe in an effort to provide safe passage for inner city youth into productive adult lives.

Wilmot sports career firsts, Fox Lake's Moulis wins

MICHAEL H. BABIJCZ

Correspondent

Kurt Winker of Kenosha, Wis., and Steve Moulis of Fox Lake scored first-time feature wins in the modified and mini-sprint divisions, respectively, on June 24 at Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway.

Winker, a 19-year-old second generation competitor in his third season of racing, put his Rizzo Janitorial Service/Grand Rental Station/Winker Edge Chassis 20W into the lead from the pull. Leading every lap of the 20-lap headliner was not as easy as it appeared.

Point leader and defending champion Dennis Spitz was hounding Winker as the pair pulled away from the field. With five laps remaining, Spitz' front end snapped coming out of turn four, bringing the only caution of the race.

Winker's worries were not over as Craig Lager and Gary Dye closed in on the restart. Winker stuck to his line, holding off Lager and Dye as the trio crossed less than two car lengths apart.

"This feels fantastic," said Winker. "The crew has worked their tails off. I was sorry to see Dennis go out, and I knew the other two were right there. I just stuck to my low line and it worked."

The 15-lap mini-sprint main got off to a wild start, somewhat indicative of the way it would be at the end.

Todd Lehr took the initial lead on the restart. Moulis put his Pacific Club/Fox Lake Harbor/Sippel Racin' No. 1 into the top spot coming out of turn four to lead the first official lap.

Two laps later, a two-car tangle brought out another caution with Moulis still at the point. Moulis initially had Steve Reidel Jr. on his tail, but Reidel dropped out with five laps to go.

"This is great. The monkey's finally off our back," said Moulis, who won the Wilmot title last year without a feature win. "The car ran super. The crew set it up fantastically. Now, after three years, in the space of four days I've won two features (Moulis won June 21 at Hales Corners for his first-ever main win). My dad (Joe Moulis) said I could do it and I guess he was right."

A twinbill of action is scheduled for "Wisconsin's Clay Center of Speed" this weekend. Bud Lite presents a pre-holiday special. On July 1 will be Winker Engineering of Kenosha Night with sprints, IMCA modifieds, mini-sprints and modifieds.

On July 2 will be the first appearance of the season by the North American Sportsman Series. Rascal Outlaw Sprints and mini-modifieds join the full-bodied stock cars. Gates open each night at 5 p.m. and races at 7 p.m. For Wilmot Speedway information phone the 24-hour racelines (414)862-2446 or 838-RACE, or the track office at (414)862-2458.

Chiefs prepare to sizzle at July Fourth Wis. tourneys

After a pair of second-place finishes, the 13-year-old Lake County Chiefs baseball team played a couple of warm-up games.

"We are getting ready for the July Fourth tournaments," Manager Art Mansavage said.

The Chiefs edged Twin Lakes Travelers 7-6 in a close contest. The Chiefs batted the roster and had some good hitting from the entire team.

Pitching duties for the 8-inning game were shared by: Mike Crane, Austin Turner, John Glatt, Jason Parker, JJ Lubicky and Ed Matsumoto. Turner was 2-of-3 as well as Crane, Matt Rollins, Mike Bruszer was 3-of-3.

The Chiefs' 13 and under took on the Deerfield 14 and under team on a Saturday morning. "It was fun playing against players many of the boys had played against in the past," Mansavage said.

Bruszer pitched two innings and gave up no runs on one hit with 2 strikeouts. Mac Mansavage had three flawless innings giving up no hits, no runs and fanning 6. Parker pitched the final two innings giving up no runs, no hits and striking out 3. The Chiefs won 9-0 as the offense had 9 hits in some clutch situations. Matsumoto gained a double.

The Chiefs travel to Milwaukee and Kenosha this weekend for tourney play.

The 11 and under and 13 and under teams are still looking for pitchers. If interested, call Mansavage at 945-9606.
